Senators Say No Decline In Sight for Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and George A. Smathers were confident the economy will continue operating in high gear even if there is no tax cut until 1964.

Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, and Smathers, Floridian who is secretary of the Democratic Conference, agreed in an interview that there is no economic downturn in sight.

President Kennedy has been pressing for Senate action on the House-passed $11-billion tax

Jetliner Engine Loss Is Probed

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Investigators are trying to find out what ripped one engine from a four-engine jet airliner carrying 128 persons, forcing an emergency landing.

Pilot Mel H. French of Huntington Station, L.I., said the Eastern Airlines DC8 ran into the worst turbulence he had ever encountered shortly after takeoff from Houston Saturday.

Flying at 20,000 feet, the plane suddenly was caught in a violent downdraft and dropped nearly three miles in about 12 seconds.

Passengers with seat belts unfastened were pushed against the ceiling where they remained helpless until the pilot regained control and leveled off around 6,500 feet.

Accidents Kill 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At least 15 Ohioans — seven of them youths — died in accidents last weekend. Thirteen of the deaths occurred in crashes on the state's highways.

Dirksen — Exactly how will you enforce it? How do you set it up in order to give it real effect? My experience with ceilings over a long period of time leads me to believe that you have some difficulty there.

Smathers — We are the ones here in Congress who will determine the amount of appropriations. It's not done in the executive branch of the government.

The effect of a tax cut made in an election year:

Dirksen — One would normally think that if a tax cut could be well-propagandized in an election year it might have some political benefit. But people are pretty well insured to these dodges in our political system and perhaps its effect will not be as great as one might anticipate.

Smathers — I don't believe it will make a great deal of difference, generally speaking, because in this instance, most of the Republicans are supporting the tax bill.

Will a tax reduction lift the economy sufficiently to balance the budget in a couple of years?

Smathers — I firmly believe that, as does the business advisory group and most other business groups.

Dirksen — It'll have some effect, but in my judgment not nearly as much as anticipated.

Jap Leftists Rap Premier In Tragedies

600 Persons Die In Coal Mine, Train Mishaps

TOKYO (AP)—Leftist cries of government neglect and the smell of funeral incense hung heavily over Japan today as bereaved families arranged services for more than 600 persons killed in a coal mine explosion and triple train crash.

Socialist and Democratic Socialist politicians seized on the double disaster as a major campaign issue in national parliamentary election only 10 days off.

The leftists held Premier Hayato Koda's conservative government responsible for the tragedies, charging the accidents resulted from the government's "one-sided policy to protect monopolistic capitalist classes" at the expense of workers' lives.

The coal mine explosion in the mine at Omuta, on the southern island of Kyushu, killed 449 miners, injured about 450 and left 7 unaccounted for, the Mitsui Mining Co. said. Police said, however, they had counted 452 bodies.

The train wreck six hours later and 600 miles to the north killed 162 persons, including William Scott, 28, of Colorado Springs, Colo., who was studying in Tokyo. At least 70 were injured.

Two persons were injured today in another train wreck. A slow-moving passenger train rammed another passenger train that had halted half a mile out of the Hiroshima station.

Although the pressure was on Koda, the president of Japan National Railways, Reiske shida, said he was accepting full responsibility for Saturday's disaster and would resign.

The pileup near Tokyo was the second three-train crash in 18 months. Japanese rail accidents take an average of 10,000 lives a year.

Hot Seat Fails To Stall Hunter

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Neither exploding shells, fire nor a hot seat could keep Elmer Schenk of Trenton, Ohio, from his appointed task of deer hunting in Canada Saturday.

Schenk was driving south of Jackson when he heard a series of explosions. Schenk thought he was under fire. As he pulled to the side of the road he found he was over fire. The seat of his pickup truck was burning.

Firemen said the muffler on Schenk's truck was defective, causing the floorboards to become overheated, and set off some 40 of 100 30-30 rifle shells Schenk had stored under the seat.

Undaunted, Schenk told firemen he planned to continue to Canada.

U.S. Coast Guard Patrols Castro's Cuban Area Every Day

Editor's Note — Coast Guard operations off south Florida are mainly concerned with Cuba—refugees escaping and raids against the Communist island from this country. Daily air and sea patrols are maintained. An Associated Press staff writer and photographer made one such flight. This is a look at the air patrol.

By JOE MCGOWAN JR., Associated Press Staff Writer MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A slow-moving, unarmed Coast Guard patrol plane defied guns trained on it by Cuban militiamen and scored a major propaganda victory over the Fidel Castro regime.

Photographs taken by the crew of the twin-engine amphibious plane showed the world a Cuban raiding party kidnapping 19 refugees from Anguilla Cay, a desolate British island 40 miles off Cuba's north coast.

Photos showed a Russian-built helicopter on the ground and two Russian-made PT-type boats speeding from the island with the refugees aboard. One photo showed three men in one boat with their automatic rifles aimed at the U.S. aircraft.

Catching the Cubans in the daylight raid is regarded by the Coast Guard's Miami Air Station as the most exciting thing that has happened since Castro came to power.

Search and rescue has been and still is the Coast Guard's primary job. These missions can be tedious. Sometimes they are dangerous.

Since mid-1959, a preponderance of search and rescue missions have been linked in one way or another with the Cuban situation.

In addition, the Coast Guard has been assigned the difficult two-way task of guarding against illegal Castro activities, yet protecting the Communist island from attack by anti-Castro exiles.

To handle the assignment, the Coast Guard has siphoned off men and equipment from its stations around the world and added them to the command of the 7th Coast Guard District, headquartered in Miami.

The district has become the largest Coast Guard operation in the world, said Comdr. James Dillon. Ten high-wing Albatross amphibians, capable of land or sea operation, and three helicopters operate from the air station at Dinner Key.

On March 30, 1963, President Kennedy issued a proclamation against raids on Cuba.

"Since then, we have had a plane in the air at almost all times during daylight hours, and quite often at night," said a Coast Guard officer.

This newsman and photographer Earl Shugars went along recently on Patrol Charlie, a 1,000-mile, 8-hour flight.

Shopping Hours To Be Established

The Retail Merchants committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce will meet 8 a. m. tomorrow for a breakfast meeting at Odra's Restaurant.

Foremost on the agenda will be a discussion on store hours for the Christmas shopping period which is just around the corner. Also coming under study will be rejuvenation of the downtown area in preparation for the Yule season and Business-Education Day that is scheduled in March of 1964.

All retailers are invited to the breakfast meeting. The store hours, as determined at the Tuesday session, will be listed in The Herald when they are established, according to chamber officials.

Gem Theft Follows Big Stickup

NEW YORK (AP) — A $200,000 gem theft was reported to police Sunday night, two days after the nation's biggest jewel robbery—a badly bungled $3-million stickup here.

Real estate man Emanuel Simon and his wife told police jewelry valued at about $200,000 was taken from a bedroom closet in their East Side Manhattan apartment during the weekend.

The loot included a 24-carat diamond ring that Simon said was worth $35,000. He said he believes almost all of the missing pieces were insured. They belonged to Mr. Simon.

Police, seeking a more specific figure for what they estimate was a $3-million gem robbery Friday, have asked the victimized jeweler to show up at a precinct station today to give an accurate accounting of the loot.

A band of gunmen, two in police uniforms and three wearing Halloween masks, stopped a jewelry messenger service car carrying six unarmed guards and relieved them of gems plus eight gold bars weighing 15 pounds each.

The messenger service station wagon, found abandoned a few hours later, contained most of the loot, including the gold bars

Aid Debate To Resume

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress took today off in observance of Veterans Day, but a third week of battling over foreign aid legislation will get under way in the Senate Tuesday.

Senate leaders hope to stir the buffeted foreign aid authorization measure to passage before the end of the week. It already has been cut back to $3.7 billion, compared to the $4.5 billion asked by President Kennedy.

The House also will meet Tuesday, but under an agreement not to transact business.

On Wednesday, it is to take up a bill to continue Peace Corps operations and the next day an international agreement to stabilize coffee prices and production.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, is expected to question Texas primitor Billie Sol Estes Tuesday about his dealings with the Agriculture Department.

With the current fiscal year now in its fifth month, the House Appropriations Committee is expected to bring out multibillion-dollar military construction and public works bills.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has scheduled a meeting for Wednesday to act on a House-passed bill carrying over $13 billion for 26 government agencies. Included in the measure are funds for the civilian space program.

The Senate Finance Committee will continue its hearings on the $11 billion tax cut bill, but it will have to interrupt them before the end of the month to act on a measure passed by the House last week to raise the debt ceiling temporarily to $315 billion.

A week from Tuesday the Senate Investigations subcommittee will resume its hearings into the TFX warplane contract award.

Indianapolis Blast Is Blamed on Gas

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The death toll in the Fairgrounds Coliseum blast—now blamed on leaking gas ignited by a small household heater — has jumped to 71.

Mrs. Cecile Hoffer, 72, Indianapolis, died in Methodist Hospital today of injuries suffered in the explosion. Her husband was killed in the blast.

Mrs. Elenora M. Ricketts, 81, Indianapolis, died in Methodist Hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in the Halloween night disaster—the worst in Indiana history.

The woman was one of 385 persons injured in the violent explosion that ripped piano-sized chunks of concrete from a box-seat section, and hurled them into the air along with spectators' bodies. A Holiday on Ice revue was beginning its finale when the blast struck.

Charles P. Hill, fire prevention chief, said Sunday that liquid petroleum gas spilling from a tank and ignited by a small heater apparently caused the explosion.

Hill said key pieces to the cause of the blast came from Wilbur W. Gauthier, 54, who directed vendors selling popcorn and soft drinks to the ice show crowd.

Gauthier, critically injured by the explosion, had been unable to speak with investigators until Sunday.

He reported seeing three liquid petroleum tanks in a room where prepped corn was kept warm until it could be boxed.

Suddenly there was a hissing sound, Gauthier related. As he walked to the popcorn bin, one of the unconnected tanks toppled, falling to the floor on its side.

Gauthier said when a mist started enveloping the fallen tank, he yelled for everyone to get out and headed toward the tank to shut off the valve. The explosion stopped the concession manager's effort.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a cloudless blue sky, President Kennedy placed a red, white and blue wreath at the Tomb of Unknowns today to honor the nation's war veterans living and dead.

Negro Eyes GOP Primary

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Zuber, a Negro leader in the fight against Northern school segregation, has announced he will enter the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary as an independent.

Zuber, an attorney, said at his home in Harlem Sunday night he wants to provide a forum for the expression of Negro views.

During the past five years, Zuber has become an expert in defactor school segregation—created by housing patterns. He has won school integration cases in New York City and New Rochelle, N. Y.; and Englewood and Newark, N. J., and is fighting a similar suit in Chicago.

The 37-year-old Zuber said he will conduct an "education campaign setting forth the Negro's position on civil rights" to New Hampshire voters starting next month.

Meyers, irate at the damage to his crop of sod locked the gate and demanded $10 each from the drivers before he would let them out of the field. They paid.

Ohio's Political Picture To Form Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio political picture for 1964 probably will begin to take shape in about three weeks with an expected announcement by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, that he will seek a second term.

And, unless all signs fail, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, serving his first term in the House, will then announce that he plans to bid for Young's Senate seat.

As soon as Taft makes his announcement to seek the seat held for years by his father, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, is expected to announce for the at-large House seat now held by Taft.

One cloud in the picture was at least partially removed last week when President Kennedy met with Ohio editors at lunch. Kennedy was reported to have said that he expects Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the first U.S. spaceman to orbit the earth, to stay in the space program and that he expects Young to seek re-election.

Rumors had been circulating for months that the White House would like Young to step aside by taking some post such as an ambassadorship to permit Glenn, of New Concord, Ohio, to run for his Senate seat.

Young has brushed aside such talk in the past. Referring to Kennedy's comments about Glenn to the editors, Young said any possibility that Glenn might enter the Ohio political situation had made no difference to him.

Although not saying what his decision will be, Young said that he will make known his intentions by the end of November or early in December.

Taft also said his decision will not be affected by what other Republicans might do in the 1964 race. He has not announced yet what he intends to do, but those close to him predict he will try for the Senate. He said he would announce his decision before Christmas.

Taft's comment came when asked for his reaction to the announcement by Ted W. Brown, Ohio secretary of state, one of the state's best vote getters, that he will enter the Ohio Republican senatorial primary next May.

Brown was the first to announce officially he would seek Young's Senate seat. He has been the secretary of state since 1951 and his current term runs through 1966.

Bolton said that he was considering running for Taft's at-large seat if the latter tries for the Senate. He said he would not seek the at-large seat if Taft seeks re-election.

Bolton said it was difficult for him to make up his mind to leave his 11th District in North-east Ohio to run at-large, but it had been suggested that doing so would add strength to the state ticket.

And he made no bones about what his ultimate intention would then be—to make a run for the Senate. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, will be up for reelection in 1966 and Bolton is now eyeing that job.

Taft, who won his at-large seat last year by a margin of some 600,000 votes in the state-wide race, also said he believes Ohio should have a favorite son candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

The talk is that Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes will agree to become a favorite son candidate and Taft said he would back him for that.

Smathers said he doesn't believe there will be an economic downturn this year. But he said business leaders and economists remained concerned that if taxes are not cut soon "we would begin to experience a downturn in the early part of next year."

Junior Collegians Poised To Launch Own Satellite

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—In this day of billion dollar space budgets, two junior college students in the Nevada desert Sunday and the two backyard scientists reported everything A-OK.

Their 4-stage, 31-inch solid fuel rocket roared off a 35-foot helium balloon at 90,000 feet and sent a tiny nose cone up to about 70 miles altitude.

"It flew for 4 minutes—we know that for sure," Dave Guidici, 21, an engineering student at Oakland City College told The Associated Press.

"Everything went perfectly," he added. "The transmitter aboard the cone worked fine. We tracked for 10 seconds after blastoff. We lost it, but picked it up again as it re-entered. Through physics we know exactly its flight curve, even though it burned up. We could even hear it re-enter the atmosphere."

"You can say," Guidici declared, "We did yesterday in miniature what we're going to do in six months when we launch our satellite. The only difference will be everything will be bigger and we'll launch at the horizon and not straight up."

Dave's partner in this East San Francisco Bay area venture into do-it-yourself rocketry is Kelly MacDonald, a student at Contra Costa Junior College who decided recently—for some strange reason—to drop engineering in favor of pre-medicine. Kelly is 20 and both boys live in El Cerrito, next door to Berkeley.

"To be fair," Kelly said, "we've had great support from NASA, from the University of California and from the Navy. The Navy is furnishing us parts for the 102-inch rocket for our satellite launch and we will fire over the Navy's South Pacific test range."

The satellite will be a 4.2 pound nose cone carrying three pounds of instruments provided by the University of Berkeley.

Mrs. Elenora M. Ricketts, 81, Indianapolis, died in Methodist Hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in the Halloween night disaster—the worst in Indiana history.

The woman was one of 385 persons injured in the violent explosion that ripped pianosized chunks of concrete from a box-seat section, and hurled them into the air along with spectators' bodies. A Holiday on Ice revue was beginning its finale when the blast struck.

Charles P. Hill, fire prevention chief, said Sunday that liquid petroleum gas spilling from a tank and ignited by a small heater apparently caused the explosion.

Hill said key pieces to the cause of the blast came from Wilbur W. Gauthier, 54, who directed vendors selling popcorn and soft drinks to the ice show crowd.

Gauthier, critically injured by the explosion, had been unable to speak with investigators until Sunday.

He reported seeing three liquid petroleum tanks in a room where prepped corn was kept warm until it could be boxed.

Suddenly there was a hissing sound, Gauthier related. As he walked to the popcorn bin, one of the unconnected tanks toppled, falling to the floor on its side.

Gauthier said when a mist started enveloping the fallen tank, he yelled for everyone to get out and headed toward the tank to shut off the valve. The explosion stopped the concession manager's effort.

Gem Theft Follows Big Stickup

NEW YORK (AP) — A $200,000 gem theft was reported to police Sunday night, two days after the nation's biggest jewel robbery—a badly bungled $3-million stickup here.

Real estate man Emanuel Simon and his wife told police jewelry valued at about $200,000 was taken from a bedroom closet in their East Side Manhattan apartment during the weekend.

The loot included a 24-carat diamond ring that Simon said was worth $35,000. He said he believes almost all of the missing pieces were insured. They belonged to Mr. Simon.

Police, seeking a more specific figure for what they estimate was a $3-million gem robbery Friday, have asked the victimized jeweler to show up at a precinct station today to give an accurate accounting of the loot.

A band of gunmen, two in police uniforms and three wearing Halloween masks, stopped a jewelry messenger service car carrying six unarmed guards and relieved them of gems plus eight gold bars weighing 15 pounds each.

The messenger service station wagon, found abandoned a few hours later, contained most of the loot, including the gold bars

Hot Seat Fails To Stall Hunter

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Neither exploding shells, fire nor a hot seat could keep Elmer Schenk of Trenton, Ohio, from his appointed task of deer hunting in Canada Saturday.

Schenk was driving south of Jackson when he heard a series of explosions. Schenk thought he was under fire. As he pulled to the side of the road he found he was over fire. The seat of his pickup truck was burning.

Firemen said the muffler on Schenk's truck was defective, causing the floorboards to become overheated, and set off some 40 of 100 30-30 rifle shells Schenk had stored under the seat.

Undaunted, Schenk told firemen he planned to continue to Canada.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Slippery Rock State College of Pennsylvania, was selected today to play in the third annual All Sports Bowl football game here Dec. 7.

Once Around Roundtown

VETERANS Day was observed in Circleville today on the quiet and serene side.

No parades or special ceremonies marked the day set aside to honor the millions who have served the nation. . . . But many flags flying in the downtown area and residential sections designated silent tribute to those who answered their country's call.

Public offices were closed, as were most banks in the city and county. . . . Law enforcement agencies and firemen remained on duty.

Negro Eyes GOP Primary

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Zuber, a Negro leader in the fight against Northern school segregation, has announced he will enter the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary as an independent.

Zuber, an attorney, said at his home in Harlem Sunday night he wants to provide a forum for the expression of Negro views.

During the past five years, Zuber has become an expert in defactor school segregation—created by housing patterns. He has won school integration cases in New York City and New Rochelle, N. Y.; and Englewood and Newark, N. J., and is fighting a similar suit in Chicago.

The 37-year-old Zuber said he will conduct an "education campaign setting forth the Negro's position on civil rights" to New Hampshire voters starting next month.

A-Strikers To Vote

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Strikers vote today on whether to accept a 7-cent hourly wage increase and end a 28-day-old walkout at two atomic plants here. The strike has idled 4,500 workmen.

Curious Motorists Assessed High Fees

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—A hot-air balloon made a 45-minute flight over Johnson County Sunday and landed on Jack W. Meyers' sod farm.

Persons in about 10 cars followed the slow-moving balloon. They opened a gate and drove through Meyers' bluegrass sod to the landing site.

Meyers, irate at the damage to his crop of sod locked the gate and demanded $10 each from the drivers before he would let them out of the field. They paid.

News of World in Brief

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A 7-year-old schoolboy, Gregory C. Brown, was crushed under the wheels of a school bus today.

The Highway Patrol, which is investigating the case, said the accident occurred on Ohio 69, about 15 miles southwest of here.

The victim was a first grader from Route 1, New Carlisle.

The bus driver, Mason E. Martin, 33, of Springfield, told authorities he always picked up two boys at the place of the accident. He said one got on and when he didn't see Gregory he started the bus.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 11 a.m. (EST) Thursday, the White House announced today.

This will be Kennedy's first morning news conference since March 6.

White House sources said Kennedy scheduled the morning meeting with newsmen in deference to a number of afternoon newspapers which objected to his usual policy of holding news conferences in late afternoon-too late, generally, for publication in their editions.

BANGKOK Thailand (AP)—The Colombo Plan nations opened a ministerial conference on technical and economic cooperation today that may be dominated by the political dispute over Malaysia.

In their opening speeches, however, representatives of the four nations chiefly involved in the dispute—Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines and Britain—made no reference to it.

The Philippine and Malaysian delegates together in an attempt to end the diplomatic rift awaited the arrival of Philippine Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez Tuesday night.

The Philippines wants a reconciliation with Malaysia but first wants assurances that its claim to the Malaysian state of North Borneo will be considered and a procedure agreed upon for settlement of that claim.

Malaysia says the Philippines must first recognize Malaysia before any talks can take place.

GENEVA (AP)—A neutral five-man panel today began a search for a compromise proposal to end the 17-month chicken war between the United States and the European Common Market.

The panel from the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) is trying to determine the amount of damage being done to U.S. export trade in frozen chicken by the Common Market's recent sharp increase in duty.

It also will recommend relief measures—Possibly a decrease in the European tariff and an increase in U.S. tariffs on other goods—to compensate for the loss on chickens.

VIENTIANE, Laos. (AP)—A French housewife and a Laotian maid died today, bringing to four the death toll in the crash of a Laotian air force fighter-bomber.

The Laotian pilot and another French housewife were killed Sunday when the American-made fighter-bomber failed to pull out of a low-flying stunt, crashed and exploded in residential quarters of the French military mission. A third French woman was slightly injured.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Crown Prince Thondu Namgyal of the Himalayan state of Sikkim was quoted by a New Delhi newspaper as saying his wife, the former Hope Cook of New York, is expecting a child next February or March.

The Indian Express said today the 40-year-old prince disclosed the news during a visit to New Delhi last week.

The couple was married last March in a Buddhist ceremony at the mountaintop palace of Sikkim's royal family. The bride, now 23, had just graduated from Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

ROME (AP)—More than 1,000 prelates of the Roman Catholic Church crowded into the basilica of St. John Lateran as Pope Paul VI took formal possession of the cathedral church which is his as bishop of Rome.

Present at the solemn ceremony were 51 cardinals, 5 patriarchs and 1,200 bishops and archbishops. Thousands of Romans lined the street to cheer the pontiff.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., says he would be a favorite son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination—"if everyone said, 'Please do it.'"

In an interview, Case said he didn't think New Jersey needed the favorite son play at the nominating convention "but if everyone understanding this asked me to do it, for the purpose of convenience, I certainly would not regard it as something I ought to turn down."

Case said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the kind of man the Republicans should nominate, but added that he is not "Gov. Rockefeller's man in New Jersey."

Money Missing From Pocketbook

The theft of $94 from a pocketbook was reported yesterday to city police by Mrs. Arthur Strous, 211 E. High St.

Mrs. Strous told Police Sgt. Roderick List the money was taken from the pocketbook Saturday night or Sunday morning. She said the purse was on aavenport at her home, indicating that the house was entered during the night.

Sgt. List said a desk drawer had been ransacked. Nothing else was reported missing.

Single Car Mishap Results in Injuries

An early Sunday morning accident on Route 56 east of Leisville resulted in the hospitalization of Robert P. Bower, 18, of Columbus.

Bower, who was cited by the State Highway Patrol for driving left of center, was sent to University Hospital, Columbus. Authorities at the OSP station here did not know the extent of his injuries.

According to the report, Bower lost control as he rounded a sharp curve. His car was heavily damaged, officers said.

ADELPHERNA LOGAN

Logan's Heir Has Not Seen Famous Elm

A full-blooded Onondaga Indian, who says she is a descendant of the famous Chief Logan, will speak to the Pickaway County Historical Society Thursday.

Miss Adelphena Logan of the Onondaga Indian Reservation of Nedrow, N. Y., has told officials of the local historical society she has never seen the spot where her ancestor was said to have made his now famous speech to John Gibson.

Mrs. Ray Davis, who has been instrumental in bringing Miss Logan to Circleville, said a historical tour of the county and area has been planned for the speaker.

Miss Logan has lived on an Indian reservation for 40 years. She frequently speaks to school classes on Indian lore.

The speech, scheduled in the Atwater School building at 8 p. m., will be open to the public.

Appropriation Case Concluded

An easement appropriations hearing in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court ended Friday afternoon after two days of testimony.

The jury awarded the plaintiff, Warren H. Ogle, Route 2, Williamsport, a total of $1,450.40. Judge William Ammer pointed out that $866.40 of the money was awarded the plaintiff for the 0.80 of an acre of land taken by the Department of Highways in widening Route 22, west of Williamsport. The remaining $584 was allowed Ogle for damages, the judge said.

Jurors were out of the courtroom for deliberations for about 90 minutes. The hearing began Thursday morning.

Entry at Barn Probed by Police

City police last night investigated an entry at a horse barn on the Pickaway Fairgrounds.

The entry was discovered by Leroy Converse who told police he saw two or three persons leaving the area at about 8:20 p. m. He told officers one or two sets of hobble were taken from a tack room.

Sgt. List said a desk drawer had been ransacked. Nothing else was reported missing.

Court Makes Disposition On 37 Cases

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 37 cases during October. An equal number of new cases were filed in the court during the month.

The dispositions and new cases left a backlog of 175 cases on the court's books at the end of the month. Sixty-seven of those pending are divorce actions, 95 are other civil suits and 13 are criminal matters.

The 37 cases were disposed of by the court in this manner: 18 were tried to court; six were cognovit and default judgments, and 12 were settled or dismissed.

Two cases against motorists were also tried under the traffic point system.

The Fourth District Court of Appeals did not meet here last month, leaving a backlog of two cases pending action by the appellate judiciary.

Auto Larceny Count Dismissed

Auto theft charges have been dismissed against a Clarksburg area man in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Ernest Jester, Route 1, Clarksburg, appeared before Judge William Ammer on the auto theft charges after waiving his rights to indictment by a grand jury.

Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer recommended the charges be dismissed since "evidence did not support the charges," Judge Ammer said.

Two Teacher Resignations Are Accepted

Circleville's Board of Education met in special session at noon today to accept resignations of two high school teachers and to name their successors.

Paul Reiss, head basketball coach, and Mrs. Kenneth A. Musselman, physics-chemistry teacher, submitted their resignations to the school board Friday. They were accepted today by the board.

Don Neff, reserve coach, was named to replace Reiss as chief mentor upon a recommendation by Fritz Jacobs, superintendent. Jim Shaw is to assume Neff's duties as reserve coach.

Fred Watts, retired chemist- physics instructor at CHS, was offered a contract by the school board to fill the vacancy left by the sudden resignation of Mrs. Musselman. Jacobs said Watts probably will make a reply to the school board's offer today.

Ike Thumps Nixon Drum

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower sees Richard M. Nixon as a possible darkhorse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

The former president told a nationwide television audience Sunday:

"Now if there should be one of those deadlocks (at the national convention)...I think he (Nixon) would be one of the likely persons to be examined and approached because he is after all a very knowledgeable and a very courageous type of person."

Nixon, vice president under Eisenhower for eight years, was not available for comment.

He has said repeatedly he has no interest in running again for the presidency. He lost to John F. Kennedy three years ago.

had been shot at least four times in the chest.

The bodies were identified tentatively by Lucas County sheriff's deputies as those of Edward Mitchell, 19, of Liberty Township, and Mary Caldwell, 17, of Toledo. The couple left their homes about 7 o'clock Saturday night to go to a drive-in theater.

The car was owned by the boy's mother, Mrs. Iva Rumsey, who told deputies the two had been missing from their home overnight when three boys who had gone to the woods for target-shooting found the bodies.

Deputies said there were signs of a bloody struggle about 130 yards from the parked car. They said also that a siphon hose was found near the car's gas tank and apparently was used to douse the vehicle with gasoline before it was set afire.

The place where the car was found often is used as a lover's lane, a target-shooting and hunting spot, and for dumping rubbish.

Deputies said a trail, which appeared to have been made by a dragging body and marked with droplets of blood, led from the car to a point about 390 feet away. There, officers said a struggle appeared to have taken place.

Deputies theorized the couple may have been surprised in the machine and somehow the boy got out of the car and fought his attacker. No women's footprints were found either outside the auto or at the fight scene.

Officers said after subduing the youth, the attacker dragged the boy back to the car. The boy's body was found on the floor of the rear seat and the girl's body was on the rear seat.

Deputies said they found the car apparently rammed into a sand dune. Alongside of the car were all four of the vehicle's chrome wheel covers and the piece of hose. Mrs. Rumsey told officers that her son had removed the wheel covers and kept them in the car's trunk.

Firemen administered oxygen to the victims at the scene before taking them to hospitals. All 23 persons were treated for carbon monoxide poisoning and released.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Crown Prince Thirupudaimalai of the Himalayan state of Sikkim was quoted by a New Delhi newspaper as saying his wife, the former Hope Cook of New York, is expecting a child next February or March.

The Indian Express said today the 40-year-old prince disclosed the news during a visit to New Delhi last week.

The couple was married last March in a Buddhist ceremony at the mountaintop palace of Sikkim's royal family. The bride, now 23, had just graduated from Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

ROME (AP) — More than 1,000 prelates of the Roman Catholic Church crowded into the basilica of St. John Lateran as Pope Paul VI took formal possession of the cathedral church which is his as bishop of Rome.

Present at the solemn ceremony were 51 cardinals, 5 patriarchs and 1,200 bishops and archbishops. Thousands of Romans lined the street to cheer the pontiff.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., says he would be a favorite son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination — "if everyone said, 'Please do it.'"

In an interview, Case said he didn't think New Jersey needed the favorite son play at the nominating convention "but if everyone understanding this asked me to do it, for the purpose of convenience, I certainly would not regard it as something I ought to turn down."

Case said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the kind of man the Republicans should nominate, but added that he is not "Gov. Rockefeller's man in New Jersey."

Money Missing From Pocketbook

The theft of $94 from a pocketbook was reported yesterday to city police by Mrs. Arthur Strous, 211 E. High St.

Mrs. Strous told Police Sgt. Roderick List the money was taken from the pocketbook Saturday night or Sunday morning. She said the purse was on aavenport at her home, indicating that the house was entered during the night.

Sgt. List said a desk drawer had been ransacked. Nothing else was reported missing.

Single Car Mishap Results in Injuries

An early Sunday morning accident on Route 56 east of Leisville resulted in the hospitalization of Robert P. Bower, 18, of Columbus.

Bower, who was cited by the State Highway Patrol for driving left of center, was sent to University Hospital, Columbus. Authorities at the OSP station here did not know the extent of his injuries.

According to the report, Bower lost control as he rounded a sharp curve. His car was heavily damaged, officers said.

ADELPHENA LOGAN

Logan's Heir Has Not Seen Famous Elm

A full-blooded Onondaga Indian, who says she is a descendant of the famous Chief Logan will speak to the Pickaway County Historical Society Thursday.

Miss Adelphe Logan of the Onondaga Indian Reservation of Nedrow, N. Y., has told officials of the local historical society she has never seen the spot where her ancestor was said to have made his now famous speech to John Gibson.

Mrs. Ray Davis, who has been instrumental in bringing Miss Logan to Circleville, said a historical tour of the county and area has been planned for the speaker.

Miss Logan has lived on an Indian reservation for 40 years. She frequently speaks to school classes on Indian lore.

The speech, scheduled in the Atwater School building at 8 p. m., will be open to the public.

Appropriation Case Concluded

An easement appropriations hearing in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court ended Friday afternoon after two days of testimony.

The jury awarded the plaintiff, Warren H. Ogle, Route 2, Williamsport, a total of $1,450.40. Judge William Ammer pointed out that $866.40 of the money was awarded the plaintiff for the 0.80 of an acre of land taken by the Department of Highways in widening Route 22, west of Williamsport. The remaining $584 was allowed Ogle for damages, the judge said.

Jurors were out of the courtroom for deliberations for about 90 minutes. The hearing began Thursday morning.

Entry at Barn Probed by Police

City police last night investigated an entry at a horse barn on the Pickaway Fairgrounds.

The entry was discovered by Leroy Converse who told police he saw two or three persons leaving the area at about 8:20 p. m. He told officers one or two sets of hobbles were taken from a tack room.

Court Makes Disposition On 37 Cases

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 37 cases during October. An equal number of new cases were filed in the court during the month.

The dispositions and new cases left a backlog of 175 cases on the court's books at the end of the month. Sixty-seven of those pending are divorce actions, 95 are other civil suits and 13 are criminal matters.

The 37 cases were disposed of by the court in this manner: 18 were tried to court; one was tried before a jury; six were cognovit and default judgments, and 12 were settled or dismissed.

Two cases against motorists were also tried under the traffic point system.

The Fourth District Court of Appeals did not meet here last month, leaving a backlog of two cases pending action by the appellate judiciary.

Auto Larceny Count Dismissed

Auto theft charges have been dismissed against a Clarksburg area man in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Ernest Jester, Route 1, Clarksburg, appeared before Judge William Ammer on the auto theft charges after waiving his rights to indictment by a grand jury.

Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer recommended the charges be dismissed since "evidence did not support the charges," Judge Ammer said.

Also appearing before the bench was Leroy Pence, Lowery Lane, on violation of his probation levied several months ago for non-support. Judge Ammer extended Pence's probationary period as a result of the violation.

Toledo Area Boy, Girl Die Violent, Fiery Deaths

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The charred bodies of a boy and girl were found Sunday in a burned-out automobile in a desolate wooded area about 14 miles west of here.

Dr. Harry Mignerey, coroner, who has not ruled in the deaths, reported today that the girl's skull was fractured and the boy had been shot at least four times in the chest.

The bodies were identified tentatively by Lucas County sheriff's deputies as those of Edward Mitchell, 19, of Liberty Township, and Mary Caldwell, 17, of Toledo. The couple left their homes about 7 o'clock Saturday night to go to a drive-in theater.

The car was owned by the boy's mother, Mrs. Iva Rumsey, who told deputies the two had been missing from their home overnight when three boys who had gone to the woods for target-shooting found the bodies.

Deputies said there were signs of a bloody struggle about 150 yards from the parked car. They said also that a siphon hose was found near the car's gas tank and apparently was used to douse the vehicle with gasoline before it was set afire.

The place where the car was found often is used as a lover's lane, a target-shooting and hunting spot, and for dumping rubbish.

Deputies said a trail, which appeared to have been made by a dragging body and marked with droplets of blood, led from the car to a point about 390 feet away. There, officers said a struggle appeared to have taken place.

Deputies theorized the couple may have been surprised in the machine and somehow the boy got out of the car and fought his attacker. No women's footprints were found either outside the auto or at the fight scene.

Officers said after subduing the youth, the attacker dragged the boy back to the car. The boy's body was found on the floor of the rear seat and the girl's body was on the rear seat.

Deputies said they found the car apparently rammed into a sand dune. Alongside of the car were all four of the vehicle's chrome wheel covers and the piece of hose. Mrs. Rumsey told officers that her son had removed the wheel covers and kept them in the car's trunk.

Ike Thumps Nixon Drum

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower sees Richard M. Nixon as a possible darkhorse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

The former president told a nationwide television audience Sunday:

"Now if there should be one of those deadlocks (at the national convention)...I think he (Nixon) would be one of the likely persons to be examined and approached because he is after all a very knowledgeable and a very courageous type of person."

Nixon, vice president under Eisenhower for eight years, was not available for comment.

He has said repeatedly he has no interest in running again for the presidency. He lost to John F. Kennedy three years ago.

But, the Marine leader cautioned:

"We cannot practice the deception that somehow, without alertness and conscious effort on our part, an everlasting panacea may develop which will abolish for all time man's oldest plague—war."

Shoup said "the invisible spirits of these thousands of gallant Americans" buried in Arlington have this hope:

"That some day there will be a meeting at the summit which shall become as everlastingly important to humanity as the Sermon on the Mount."

Once known as Armistice Day because it commemorated the end of World War I, the holiday was broadened in 1954 to honor those who fought in all the nation's wars.

According to official figures, there are 22,127,000 living U.S. war veterans—including 23 men in their 90s who fought in the Indian wars of the West.

Kennedy, who still suffers the effects of a back injury he suffered in the Pacific in World War I, planned to come to Arlington from a weekend in the country.

Fumes in Church Poison 23 Persons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Deadly carbon monoxide fumes escaping from an unvented gas heater poisoned 23 persons during a Baptist church service Sunday night, firemen reported.

The Rev. Claud Wise, 49, told officials that no one in the congregation noticed the fumes until the service ended at 8:30.

As the congregation was leaving the basement storeroom where the service was held, two small children passed out. Adults called the emergency squad.

Firemen administered oxygen to the victims at the scene before taking them to hospitals. All 23 persons were treated for carbon monoxide poisoning and released.

Jewish Congress Chief Sees Red Antisemitism

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the American Jewish Congress has accused Russia of an "official campaign of humiliation, discrimination and deprivation" of its three million Jews. He said it is designed to blot out all cultural and religious Jewish life within Russia.

In a speech before 500 persons at the Congress' Northern Ohio Council meeting Sunday night, Dr. Jachim Prinz called for a reversal of the Soviet Union's policy toward its Jewish citizens.

He said it must be changed "either by the power of world opinion or the intercession of U.S. and other governments"—or Jewish life in Russia faces "inevitable extinction."

"The Jews of Soviet Russia are allowed to exist," Dr. Prinz said. "It is their religion, their culture, their traditions and the memories that are being extirpated."

"This official campaign of de-Judaization is directed against a defenseless and voiceless community, doomed to quiet extinction unless their silent plea for help is answered by an aroused world conscience."

Earlier, Dr. Prinz spoke out on Catholic-Jewish relations in light of the recent Vatican document absolving Jews for blame in Christ's death.

In an interview he said Catholics must "purge" their textbooks and liturgy because Jews still are being blamed for the Crucifixion.

"It is with a great deal of relief and with a sense of satisfaction that we welcome the declaration of the Ecumenical Council in Rome regulating Jewish-Catholic relationships in the world."

In the long history of anti-Semitism, the interpretation of the story of the Crucifixion has played a tragic role, not only with the Jews of the generation of Jesus, but also with every Jewish generation thereafter, and the cry of 'Christ-killer' has stirred mobs in many countries to bloody reprisals against Jews. Many programs have started under the banner of this slogan.

"However important ratifying the authoritative statement that Jews are not guilty of the Crucifixion, it is important that this declaration be implemented on the level of the parish and that parish priests begin to preach from their pulpits in the new spirit which has been enunciated in Rome."

How Weather Locks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure area to the north of the Great Lakes moved cool stable air to Ohio Sunday, and variable amounts of rainfall resulted.

Youngstown received about one-third of an inch and Akron one-fourth of an inch. Cleveland reported about two-tenths of an inch and Columbus eight-hundredths.

Skies cleared Sunday night and extensive ground fog reduced the visibility to zero in many places.

By early today, temperatures were as low as 28 degrees at Zanesville and 29 at Columbus.

It will be continued cool today and Tuesday with afternoon cloudiness developing today, while Tuesday there may be light showers.

Temperatures will drop into the 20s and 30s tonight, and afternoon readings Tuesday will be mostly in the 50s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal. Normal high 48-50, normal low 30-36. Cooler through mid-week, moderating slowly latter part of week, turning colder again on weekend. Rainfall will average one-tenth to one-fourth inch as scattered showers Tuesday, again about Friday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near or a little below normal. Normal high 50-56, normal low 33-37. Cooler through Saturday. Rainfall will average one-tenth inch or less with a chance of sprinkles during mid-week.

Key West, the popular winter resort at Florida's tip, owes its success to the depression. In the 1930s, some 12,000 residents were on relief. To restore prosperity, the city dressed itself up as a tropical resort by cleaning the beaches and redecorating its West Indies-style wooden houses.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Nov. 11, the 315th day of 1963. There are 50 days left in the year. Today is Veterans Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, World War I came to an end at 11 a.m. after the signing of an armistice near Compiegne, France. In a message to the nation, President Woodrow Wilson declared: "The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished."

On this date: In 1776, Maryland's state constitution was established, although it was never submitted to the people for approval.

In 1868, the New York Athletic Club was the scene of the world's first indoor track meet.

In 1889, Washington was admitted to the union as the 42nd state.

In 1941, The Finnish government rejected a U.S. warning to cease fighting Russia after recovering lost territory.

In 1954, the first observance of Veterans Day saw 16,000 persons in New York City become U.S. citizens.

Ten years ago—President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell defended the patriotism of former President Truman in connection with charges made in the Harry Dexter White scandal.

Five years ago — President Arturo Frondizi imposed a state of siege in Argentina and suspended constitutional guarantees for 30 days as part of a national emergency.

One year ago — The Western Pacific island of Guam was hit by Typhoon Karen, which killed six, injured hundreds, and devastated the island.

BRAKE DOWN—Nobody injured, but the parking attendant is still feeling a bit queasy over the failure of this car's brakes. It went right through the wall and fourth floor window in Jacksonville, Fla.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The generals in South Viet Nam solved one set of problems when they threw out President Ngo Dinh Diem and his troublesome brother Ngo Dinh Nhu, both whom were killed. But there are others.

The brothers, after nine years in power, never solved them. Now it's the turn of the generals who are running the country. Will they be able to:

Steer it in a democratic direction? Diem didn't. His was a dictatorship. Wage successful war against the Communists? Diem didn't. Avoid conflicts intriguers, jealousies, explosions? Diem didn't.

Will the generals, through reforms and programs of benefit, be able to give the masses of Viet Nam a reason for caring who wins? Diem didn't. The mass of the 17 million Vietnamese live in enormous and primitive poverty.

Buddhists make up 70 per cent of the population, Roman Catholics 10 per cent. Catholic Diem repressed the Buddhists. Will the Buddhists try to retaliate against Catholics now for what Diem did? It's a haunting possibility.

Diem began his repressions in May when his government troops, firing on a Buddhist demonstration in Hue, killed nine people. The Buddhists had been complaining that Diem was discriminating against them.

This could not be blamed on the Catholic Church. In the tortured and gory months that followed the May shootings, Pope Paul VI expressed "apprehension and anguish" over the situation.

But the shootings brought the Buddhists' complaints to a head. They demanded improved social and economic status.

And then, as if he had listened to a voice coming to him over more than 400 years, a 73-year-old Buddhist priest, Quang Duc, drenched in gasoline, lit a match and burned himself to death in protest against Diem's policies.

In England 400 years ago, Catholic Queen Mary set out to repress the Protestants. One of their leaders, Bishop Hugh Latimer, was condemned to death by burning at the stake.

As he walked to his death at Oxford in 1555 he said "we shall this day light such a candle, by God's grace, as shall never be put out." It wasn't. When the Protestants regained power, they persecuted the Catholics.

The burning monk in Viet Nam shocked the world, pointed up for all to see as perhaps nothing else could the dilemma of the Buddhists, and encouraged other Buddhists to sacrifice themselves, too.

Seven of them made candles of themselves before the generals devastated Diem and his brother Nov. 1.

The Vietnamese people never have known democracy. They moved from French colonialism into Diem's dictatorship. Since they never had a chance to practice it, it can't mean to them what it does to those who grew up under it.

It can be no surprise then if the generals ignore the democratic road and operate as a dictatorship. If so, there can be no surprise if the country sinks into chaos under the weight of new repressions and power struggles.

Since the people are relieved to be free of Diem, the generals for a while at least are likely to have the country behind them and be able to fight a good war against the Communist guerrillas.

At a news conference in September, President Kennedy said: "We are for those things which help win the war." He was fed up with Diem. The generals looked like a fresh start.

This explains why the Kennedy administration, within seven days of the coup, recognized Viet Nam's provisional military government and why it hesitates so much in recognizing Latin American military coups which crush democratic regimes.

But victory in the field against the Communists is not final victory. The Communists in North Viet Nam try other methods, promising always a better life to the masses of Viet Nam.

The new government in Viet Nam, even if it wins the fighting war, will have to find an answer to offset the Communist promises. The answer lies in programs of benefit to give the masses a reason for not choosing communism.

ROCKY GOING—New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller smiles through the muddy weather in Milford, N.H., as he tries to whet up some favor in his GOP presidential nomination aspirations.

The Vietnamese people never have known democracy. They moved from French colonialism into Diem's dictatorship. Since they never had a chance to practice it, it can't mean to them what it does to those who grew up under it.

It can be no surprise then if the generals ignore the democratic road and operate as a dictatorship. If so, there can be no surprise if the country sinks into chaos under the weight of new repressions and power struggles.

Since the people are relieved to be free of Diem, the generals for a while at least are likely to have the country behind them and be able to fight a good war against the Communist guerrillas.

At a news conference in September, President Kennedy said: "We are for those things which help win the war." He was fed up with Diem. The generals looked like a fresh start.

This explains why the Kennedy administration, within seven days of the coup, recognized Viet Nam's provisional military government and why it hesitates so much in recognizing Latin American military coups which crush democratic regimes.

But victory in the field against the Communists is not final victory. The Communists in North Viet Nam will try other methods, promising always a better life to the masses of Viet Nam.

The new government in Viet Nam, even if it wins the fighting war, will have to find an answer to offset the Communist promises. The answer lies in programs of benefit to give the masses a reason for not choosing communism.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure area to the north of the Great Lakes moved cool stable air to Ohio Sunday, and variable amounts of rainfall resulted.

Youngstown received about one-third of an inch and Akron one-fourth of an inch. Cleveland reported about two-tenths of an inch and Columbus eight-hundredths.

Skies cleared Sunday night and extensive ground fog reduced the visibility to zero in many places.

By early today, temperatures were as low as 28 degrees at Zanesville and 29 at Columbus. It will be continued cool today and Tuesday with afternoon cloudiness developing today, while Tuesday there may be light showers.

Temperatures will drop into the 20s and 30s tonight, and afternoon readings Tuesday will be mostly in the 50s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal. Normal high 48-50, normal low 30-36. Cooler through mid-week, moderating slowly latter part of week, turning colder again on weekend. Rainfall will average one-tenth to one-fourth inch as scattered showers Tuesday, again about Friday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near or a little below normal. Normal high 50-56, normal low 33-37. Cooler through Saturday. Rainfall will average one-tenth inch or less with a chance of sprinkles during mid-week.

Key West, the popular winter resort at Florida's tip, owes its success to the depression. In the 1930s, some 12,000 residents were on relief. To restore prosperity, the city dressed itself up as a tropical resort by cleaning the beaches and redecorating its West Indies-style wooden houses.

Underwater Link

Napoleon Bonaparte was first to propose the idea of a tunnel joining England with France under the English Channel — in 1802 — and it has been both lauded and ridiculed ever since. In 1881, construction on both sides of the channel actually was begun. But was called off at the insistence of English generals.

Wars, economic considerations, political upheavals and other matters always seemed to crop up at the right time to dampen enthusiasm for a cross-channel connecting link. Since World War II, and the re-emergence of the European continent as a tourist and trade center, activity in behalf of a channel link — either tunnel or bridge — has grown with increasing ardor.

It has again reached a point of climax. A joint Anglo-French commission has approved plans for a 32-mile tunnel from Fokestone, England, to Sangatte, France. Both governments must now act on the $400 million proposal.

Shipping and airline traffic between England and the continent has risen dramatically since World War II. The tunnel would not compete directly with this traffic, since it would provide advantages not offered by other transport mediums. Tentative plans call for a rail link which could move 3,600 vehicles on flatcars through the tunnel per hour.

Heavy seas and blankets of fog, which frequently disrupt ocean and air transport systems, would have no effect on the "chunnel", a nickname by which the venture is already becoming widely known. The dependability of the tunnel, regardless of weather, was a big factor in swinging support away from competitive bridge proposals.

Should the project finally receive cooperative endorsements at both ends it would require approximately six years for completion and would actually extend underwater 23 miles.

In an era of the world where the automobile has only recently emerged as a carbon copy of the American symbol of mobility, the prospect of driving from Paris to London or vice versa (less than 300 miles by "chunnel" route) is certainly intriguing.

More than any other factor, the automobile may be the weight tipping the balance of the 10-year-old dream into reality.

Report of a coup d'etat overthrowing the government of the republic of Dahomey (it is becoming difficult to keep up with all the coup d'etats) sent even the better informed to the reference books. Much information is available — such as the fact that the Kingdom of Dahomey came into existence in 1625 and annual sacrifices were made to the past to the king—with as many as 100 persons killed in one instance.

The population of Dahomey is variously given as from 1.7 million to 2.2 million. Probably no one really knows what it is.

But there is no question as to where Dahomey is to wit: It is bounded on the south by the Gulf of Guinea and by Nigeria north by Niger and west by Togo. Oh yes, in West Africa.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Jobs, prices, profits and business growth plans — all are tied in some degree to the slow but steady whittling down on the nation's idle production capacity.

The gap in recent years between how much of its resources an industry was using and how much it would like to use—almost never 100 per cent, as you might think — has been credited with:

—Holding down prices because of the competition, to the joy of the consumer, but to the frustration of a company plagued by rising operating costs.

—Crimping profits in ratio to sales.

—Keeping business spending more modest than the planners would like if economic growth is to hit a pace that will make enough jobs to trim the unemployment rolls.

Most industries are closing the gap between activity and the optimum use of the facilities they built in the middle and late 1950s. But some are slipping a little. On the average, industry still has room for improvement.

How much of their capacity various industries are using, compared with the operating rate they prefer is plotted in a survey by McGraw-Hill publishing company's department of economics.

The optimum rate isn't 100 per cent because machines, like people get the snuffles and have to be repaired or checked, and because the oldest equipment or plant rarely is the most profitable to operate.

The highest preferred rate is 97 per cent, in the paper & pulp industry. Actual usage is 94 per cent, a nice climb from the 89 per cent at the end of 1962.

Textiles, operating at 95 per cent of capacity, are within one point of the most profitable pace of 96 per cent. Petroleum and coal products, at 93 per cent, are crowding the 95 per cent optimum. Autos, trucks and parts have climbed to 90 per cent, against a 96 per cent preferred level.

For all manufacturing the average optimum is 92 per cent and current usage 85 per cent.

Business confidence in boosting sales next year is strong enough to lead manufacturing companies to plan an average addition of 4 per cent to capacity. The survey says this calls for an outlay of $40.7 billion, but the increase over 1963 would be smaller than in recent years. The majority of the spending will be for modernization rather than additional plants.

"What do you want for supper tonight, Ralph?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BROKER'S ASSISTANT in Wall Street was embarrassed to discover, after eating a substantial lunch, that he had left all his money in another suit. The owner of the restaurant considered the situation for a moment, then chalked up the customer's name, plus the amount of his bill, on a board behind the cashier's desk. "Please don't do that," implored the budding financial wizard. "All my co-workers eat here. What will they say when they see what you have written?"

"They won't see it, my boy," the owner of the restaurant assured him. "Your overcoat will be hanging over it."

On the maid's day out, a prominent publisher volunteered to tackle the Herculean task of putting their four-year-old to bed. The exhausted wife threw herself on the chaise longue and picked up the evening papers. An hour later the four-year-old stole into the room and whispered, "Daddy's asleep at last!"

A teen-ager demanded an autograph from Sue Lyon, the young star of "Lolita," then explained, "It's not for me, you understand. It's for my grandfather."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Diet-hungry, calorie-counting, cholesterol-measuring weight reducers may find a new source of encouragement in an interesting program instituted at the University of Wisconsin Medical School.

Some dietary regimes are based, like this one, on well founded data. Others, unfortunately, are headline-shrieking, exploitative methods of extracting dollars rather than pounds. Eager for the quick diet, the easy diet and the appetite-suppressing pill, millions of people pay heavily for their weight-loss dreams that rarely become permanent realities.

Dr. Edgar S. Gordon, Dr. Marshall Goldberg and Grace J. Chosy formulated "an experimental weight-reducing program aimed at correcting the abnormal metabolism associated with obesity". For, during the abnormal metabolism associated with obesity, "as many as 27 abnormalities in energy-producing chemical processes were associated with obesity."

These researchers have applied this chemical knowledge in the pursuit of a concrete safe weight-reduction plan.

The program they have instituted as unique because it permits a total of 1,320 calories as a daily intake. This is considered a greater calorie allowance than most other reduction diets.

The first step of the program begins in the hospital.

For 48 hours, there is a total fasting period. The purpose is "to break the metabolic pattern of the patient rather than to produce an immediate weight loss."

Then the patient is placed on a diet that consists of 400 calories of protein 720 calories of fat and 200 calories of carbohydrates.

Liquors and pastries are eliminated. A moderate salt restriction is advised.

The patient eats six meals a day, equally divided in amounts at breakfast, mid-morning, lunch, mid-afternoon, supper and bedtime.

The creators of the plan feel that the diet has, as its basis, the idea that carbohydrates should be low. They feel, too, that the frequency of meals actually minimizes fat production.

When special abnormalities suggest a slow rate of metabolism in overweight people, the doctors have used special medications or thyroid compounds to compensate.

On this regime, no patient complained of any distress from hunger.

The clinical evaluation of this study is most encouraging. Weight losses of 50 to 100 pounds were reported in severely obese patients during the period of this study.

Under controlled conditions, patients were able to maintain their weight loss and showed no tendency to regain this weight after a period of six months.

The doctors reported one unexpected dividend from this study. They found "new beneficial dietary habits in a great many patients who expressed personal surprises about their loss of old compulsions to eat with craving for high carbohydrate foods."

It is believed that this program offers great possibilities for permanent weight reduction by utilizing the exact knowledge of the individual's metabolic and chemical abnormalities that produce obesity.

Very Mixed Feelings

By John Chamberlain

I know that I should be valiantly exercised about the current scandals and rumors of scandals in Washington. But, to be perfectly honest about it, the stories about Bobby Baker, Navy Secretary Fred Korth and others leave me with very mixed feelings.

What seems so ho-hum about it all is that minor scandals are quite unremarkable when they are projected against a background of what might be termed total scandal. Here we have Bobby Baker being accused of the crime, if it is a crime, of using his reputation as an influential Secretary of the Senate Majority in ways that have enabled him to make a lot of extra-curricular money. But whatever power Bobby had was merely a reflected power—if he could trade on "influence" it was only because certain of his employers in the U. S. Senate really do have influence. Nobody would have given Bobby a nickel he shouldn't have had if there hadn't been a fear that retribution might be lurking at the hands of somebody who could really affect the distribution of governmental rewards.

This matter of "influence" is so all-pervasive in modern politicalized society that it is next to impossible to frame an ethical course for anybody save a hermit. Some things are right by sanction, and some are not, but the sanctions themselves frequently make no logical sense.

For example, it is considered quite all right for the mayor of an important city to go to Washington in the middle of an election campaign and come home with the announcement that federal funds are about to be channeled to some bit of local urban redevelopment. This is merely a traditional way of attempting to swing a few votes. Everybody accepts this sort of thing as being part of the great game of politics. The result may be to perpetuate a group in paying city hall jobs — but no charges of "influence peddling" are brought.

When Navy Secretary Fred Korth, a former Fort Worth,

Texas banker, allegedly uses his personal prestige to help some banks he once headed, it hardly differs in its essential marrow from a tip from a dominant political party that it would be wise for a relief agency to get out those relief checks a week before the elections instead of the week after. But Korth, for his supposed indiscretions, gets it in the neck.

The moral would seem to be that if you want to give — or get — the benefits of "influence" in Washington, you should do it not as an individual but through a registered pressure group.

No individual farmer is licensed under our present moral code to get a special benefit at the expense of his fellow taxpayers. (He might try to do this by faking on his income tax, but if he were caught in the act he would assuredly pay a fine or go to jail.) However, it is perfectly all right for farmers as a group to pressure their senators into giving them special benefits at the expense of all the urban taxpayers taken together.

With group-theft sanctioned by a law that results from the tug of pressure group forces, scandal has been so diffused throughout our society that it doesn't seem scandalous at all. Everybody is licensed to live off everybody else, and who cares?

Even when it comes down to a question of individual benefits in government from "influence," the sanctions of our modern society seem incredibly confused. It was all wrong for Sherman Adams, in Eisenhower's time, to take the "loan" of an oriental rug from industrialist Bernard Goldfine. But it was not wrong in the least for the late Senator Kerr of Oklahoma to pass on legislation affecting his own industrial empire in oil.

In a grey world, the alleged blackness of Bobby Baker, Fred Korth and others is not something that can offend the great masses of society. Since they are all after government largesse, they can only yawn. Moreover, the current type of scandal seems endemic in Washington no matter what party is in power. Truman had his brush with the deep-freeze set; Eisenhower was embarrassed by his Air Secretary, Harold Talbott, who used Pentagon stationery for some unfortunate correspondence. Now Kennedy has his Fred Korth and his Bobby Baker.

Ho hum, the farmers have been getting their $8 billion a year, "area redevelopment" goes where votes are needed, and you and I have been paying for Sukarno's private planes. Why quibble at the cost of Bobby Baker's town house?

—Keeping business spending more modest than the planners would like if economic growth is to hit a pace that will make enough jobs to trim the unemployment rolls.

Most industries are closing the gap between activity and the optimum use of the facilities they built in the middle and late 1950s. But some are slipping a little. On the average, industry still has room for improvement.

How much of their capacity various industries are using, compared with the operating rate they prefer is plotted in a survey by McGraw-Hill publishing company's department of economics.

The optimum rate isn't 100 per cent because machines, like people get the sniffs and have to be repaired or checked, and because the oldest equipment or plant rarely is the most profitable to operate.

The highest preferred rate is 97 per cent, in the paper & pulp industry. Actual usage is 94 per cent, a nice climb from the 89 per cent at the end of 1962.

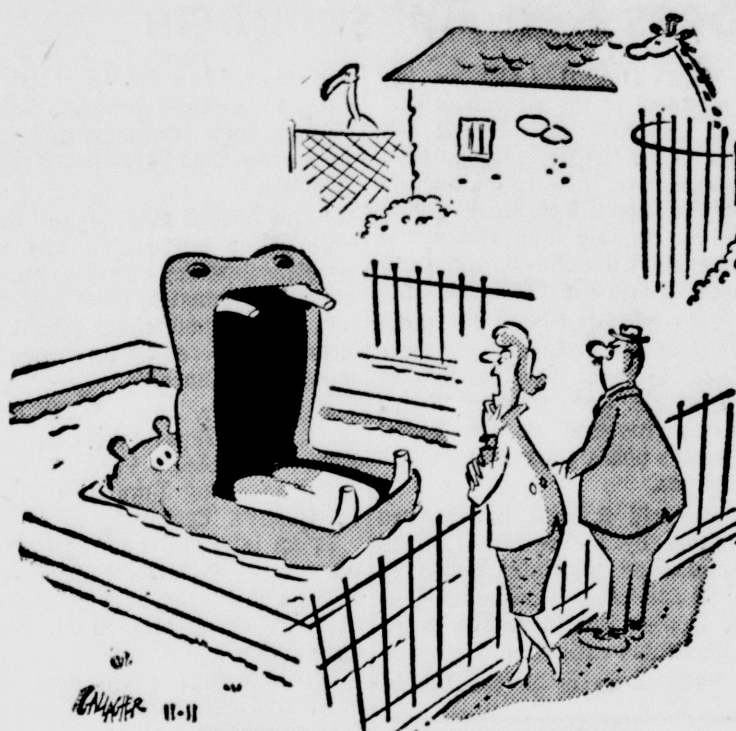

Textiles, operating at 95 per cent of capacity, are within one point of the most profitable pace of 96 per cent. Petroleum and coal products, at 93 per cent, are crowding the 95 per cent optimum. Autos, trucks and parts have climbed to 90 per cent, against a 96 per cent preferred level.

For all manufacturing the average optimum is 92 per cent and current usage 85 per cent.

Business confidence in boosting sales next year is strong enough to lead manufacturing companies to plan an average addition of 4 per cent to capacity. The survey says this calls for an outlay of $40.7 billion, but the increase over 1963 would be smaller than in recent years.

The majority of the spending will be for modernization rather than additional plants.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BROKER'S ASSISTANT in Wall Street was embarrassed to discover, after eating a substantial lunch, that he had left all his money in another suit. The owner of the restaurant considered the situation for a moment, then chalked up the customer's name, plus the amount of his bill, on a board behind the cashier's desk. "Please don't do that," implored the budding financial wizard. "All my co-workers eat here. What will they say when they see what you have written?"

"They won't see it, my boy," the owner of the restaurant assured him. "Your overcoat will be hanging over it."

On the maid's day out, a prominent publisher volunteered to tackle the Herculean task of putting their four-year-old to bed. The exhausted wife threw herself on the chaise longue and picked up the evening papers. An hour later the four-year-old stole into the room and whispered, "Daddy's asleep at last!"

A teen-ager demanded an autograph from Sue Lyon, the young star of "Lolita," then explained, "It's not for me, you understand. It's for my grandfather."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Diet-hungry, calorie-counting, cholesterol - measuring weight reducers may find a new source of encouragement in an interesting program instituted at the University of Wisconsin Medical School.

Some dietary regimes are based, like this one, on well founded data. Others, unfortunately, are headline - shrieking, exploitative methods of extracting dollars rather than pounds. Eager for the quick diet, the easy diet and the appetite suppressing pill, millions of people pay heavily for their weight-lossing dreams that rarely become permanent realities.

Dr. Edgar S. Gordon, Dr. Marshall Goldberg and Grace J. Chossy formulated "an experimental weight - reducing program aimed at correcting the abnormal metabolism associated with obesity". For, during the abnormal metabolism associated with obesity. For, during the past decade, "as many as 27 abnormalities in energy-producing chemical processes were associated with obesity."

These researchers have applied this chemical knowledge in the pursuit of a concrete safe weight-reduction plan. The program they have instituted as unique because it permits a total of 1,320 calories as a daily intake. This is considered a greater calorie allowance than most other reduction diets.

The first step of the program begins in the hospital. For 48 hours, there is a total fasting period. The purpose is "to break the metabolic pattern of the patient rather than to produce an immediate weight loss."

Then the patient is placed on a diet that consists of 400 calories of protein 720 calories of fat and 200 calories of carbohydrates. Liquors and pastries are eliminated. A moderate salt restriction is advised. The patient eats six meals a day, equally divided in amounts at breakfast, mid-morning lunch, mid - afternoon, supper and bedtime.

The creators of the plan feel that the diet has, as its basis, the idea that carbohydrates should be low. They feel, too, that the frequency of meals actually minimizes fat production. When special abnormalities suggest a slow rate of metabolism in overweight people, the doctors have used special medications or thyroid compounds to compensate.

On this regime, no patient complained of any distress from hunger. The clinical evaluation of this study is most encouraging. Weight losses of 50 to 100 pounds were reported in severely obese patients during the period of this study.

Under controlled conditions, patients were able to maintain their weight loss and showed no tendency to regain this weight after a period of six months. The doctors reported one unexpected dividend from this study. They found "new beneficial dietary habits in a great many patients who expressed personal surprises about their loss of old compulsions to eat with craving for high carbohydrate foods."

It is believed that this program offers great possibilities for permanent weight reduction by utilizing the exact knowledge of the individual's metabolic and chemical abnormalities that produce obesity.

Very Mixed Feelings

By John Chamberlain

I know that I should be valiantly exercised about the current scandals and rumors of scandals in Washington. But, to be perfectly honest about it, the stories about Bobby Baker, Navy Secretary Fred Korth and others leave me with very mixed feelings.

What seems so ho-hum about it all is that minor scandals are quite unremarkable when they are projected against a background of what might be termed total scandal. Here we have Bobby Baker being accused of the crime, if it is a crime, of using his reputation as an influential Secretary of the Senate Majority in ways that have enabled him to make a lot of extra - curricular money. But whatever power Bobby had was merely a reflected power—if he could trade on "influence" it was only because certain of his employers in the U. S. Senate really do have influence. Nobody would have given Bobby a nickel he shouldn't have had if there hadn't been a fear that retribution might be lurking at the hands of somebody who could really affect the distribution of governmental rewards.

This matter of "influence" is so all-pervasive in modern politicalized society that it is next to impossible to frame an ethical course for anybody save a hermit. Some things are right by sanction, and some are not, but the sanctions themselves frequently make no logical sense.

For example, it is considered quite all right for the mayor of an important city to go to Washington in the middle of an election campaign and come home with the announcement that federal funds are about to be channelled to some bit of local urban redevelopment. This is merely a traditional way of attempting to swing a few votes. Everybody accepts this sort of thing as being part of the great game of politics. The result may be to perpetuate a group in paying city hall jobs — but no charges of "influence peddling" are brought.

When Navy Secretary Fred Korth, a former Fort Worth,

Texas banker, allegedly uses his personal prestige to help some banks he once headed, it hardly differs in its essential marrow from a tip from a dominant political party that it would be wise for a relief agency to get out those relief checks a week before the elections instead of the week after. But Korth, for his supposed indiscretions, gets it in the neck.

The moral would seem to be that if you want to give — or get — the benefits of "influence" in Washington, you should do it not as an individual but through a registered pressure group.

No individual farmer is licensed by our present moral code to get a special benefit at the expense of his fellow taxpayers. (He might try to do this by faking on his income tax, but if he were caught in the act he would assuredly pay a fine or go to jail.) However, it is perfectly all right for farmers as a group to pressure their senators into giving them special benefits at the expense of all the urban taxpayers taken together.

With group - theft sanctioned by a law that results from the tug of pressure group forces, scandal has been so diffused throughout our society that it doesn't seem scandalous at all. Everybody is licensed to live off everybody else, and who cares?

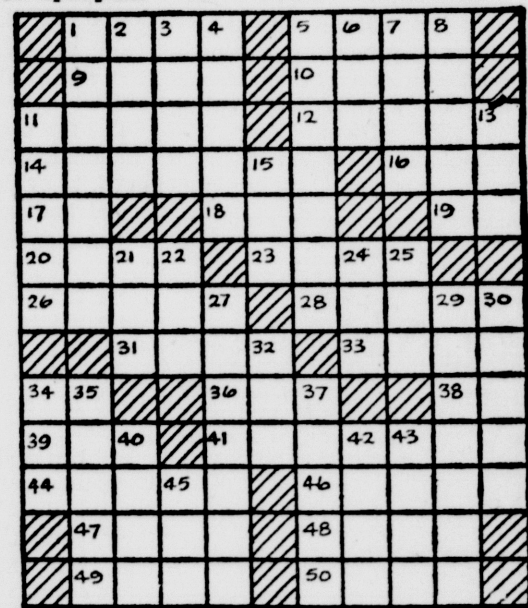

Even when it comes down to a question of individual benefits in government from "influence," the sanctions of our modern society seem incredibly confused. It was all wrong for Sherman Adams, in Eisenhower's time, to take the "loan" of an oriental rug from industrialist Bernard Goldfine. But it was not wrong in the least for the late Senator Kerr of Oklahoma to pass on legislation affecting his own industrial empire in oil.

In a grey world, the alleged blackness of Bobby Baker, Fred Korth and others is not something that can offend the great masses of society. Since they are all after government largesse, they can only yawn. Moreover, the current type of scandal seems endemic in Washington no matter what party is in power. Truman had his brush with the deep-freeze set; Eisenhower was embarrassed by his Air Secretary, Harold Talbot, who used Pentagon stationery for some unfortunate correspondence. Now Kennedy has his Fred Korth and his Bobby Baker.

Ho hum, the farmers have been getting their $8 billion a year, "area redevelopment" goes where votes are needed, and you and I have been paying for Sukarno's private planes. Why quibble at the cost of Bobby Baker's town house?

Before the tragedies became an issue, the liberal Democrats expressed confidence of winning 300 or more seats in the Nov. 21 election.

Mine union officials at Omuta also said they would press for new demands. The Omuta miners and management have a long history of bitter struggles and one union man said: "This is one disaster that's going to lead to big trouble in labor-management relations."

At Omuta, a city of 202,000, hardly a family escaped without losing a relative or a friend.

Hundreds of funeral services were being conducted in the city's only crematorium and in neighboring towns.

The battle to save the injured continued in primitive Tenryo Hospital, now badly overcrowded.

The biggest unanswered question in Omuta was how the explosion could have occurred in Mike mine, where the equipment and safety devices were considered among the most up-to-date in Japan.

The most widely accepted theory was that an electrical short circuit caused a spark that ignited coal dust.

Farm Bureau Opens Parley In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation opened a three-day meeting today with the possible sale of wheat to Russia as one of the major topics on the agenda.

Some 1,500 Buckeye farmers also planned to discuss federal agricultural programs at their 45th annual convention.

Among the speakers scheduled were Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

The Ohio federation's 16-member State Policy Development Committee will conduct open hearings on resolutions proposed at local levels and delegates will have the opportunity to offer changes.

The policy proposals will be voted on Wednesday afternoon.

Meeting in conjunction with the federation will be the Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association, an affiliate of the farm group, and the Farm Bureau's youth organization.

the inquiry, a department source said Saturday, are John F. Reilly, deputy assistant secretary of state for security, and Elmer Dewey Hill, chief of the division of technical services in the department's office of security.

They and David I. Belisle, Reilly's special assistant, have told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that wires were connected to Otepka's telephone to permit eavesdropping on conversations.

They also said no actual interception of conversation took place.

Otepka, a veteran State Department security officer, has been dismissed on charges of unbecoming conduct. Among other things he was accused of supplying the subcommittee with information from confidential employee loyalty files.

PLANE PRICE: It will cost Australia an estimated $125 million to purchase two squadrons of TFX fighter-bombers from the United States.

In calculating the approximate price Sunday, the Defense Department said the Australians will foot part of the development costs as well as production expenses.

The TFX—tactical fighter, experimental—is still on the drawing boards. Australia intends to purchase 24 of the planes, which will carry the designation F111A.

RED TRADE: Sen. Jacob J. Javits thinks the United States should expand its trade with the Soviet bloc in nonstrategic goods.

And in so doing, says the New York Republican, the United States should coordinate its policy with that of other non-Communist nations already doing business with Russia.

Javits made the remarks Sunday in a program taped in Paris and relayed to New York state for radio and television broadcast.

Unit Summoned To Field Blaze

Circleville Firemen were summoned to a field fire 2:30 p. m. Saturday in an area along Route 23 north.

The land is owned by the Hill Implement Co. Firemen remained at the scene for about 45 minutes after flames spread through a cornfield.

Cause of the blaze was not determined. Firemen said they also checked at the Bowers dump in the same vicinity after receiving two calls.

Woman, 27, Is Held For Street Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati woman was held today on a murder charge and her male companion was charged with aiding and abetting her in the fatal shooting of Bernard Doss, 25, of suburban Lincoln Heights during a street fight Sunday.

Charged with murder was Miss Mary Mitchell, 27, George Williams, 32, Cincinnati, was held on the aiding and abetting charge.

Farm Bureau Opens Parley In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation opened a three-day meeting today with the possible sale of wheat to Russia as one of the major topics on the agenda.

Some 1,500 Buckeye farmers also planned to discuss federal agricultural programs at their 45th annual convention.

Among the speakers scheduled were Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

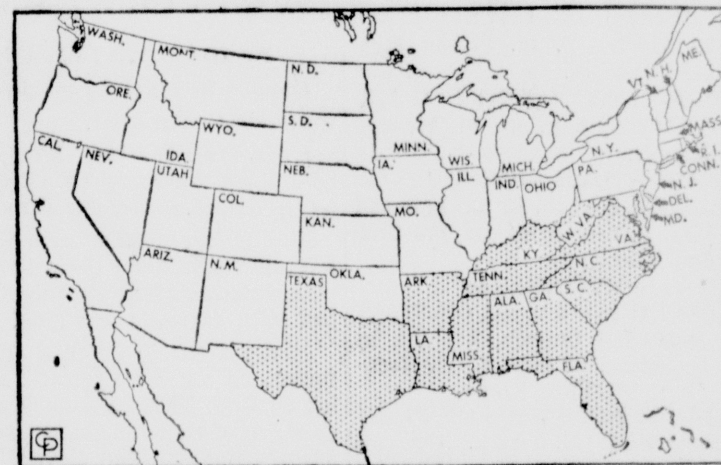

The Ohio federation's 16-member State Policy Development Committee will conduct open hearings on resolutions proposed at local levels and delegates will have the opportunity to offer changes.

The policy proposals will be voted on Wednesday afternoon.

Meeting in conjunction with the federation will be the Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association, an affiliate of the farm group, and the Farm Bureau's youth organization.

SAYS SOUTH AGAINST HIS BROTHER—Attending the Southern GOP Leadership Conference in Charleston, S.C., Winthrop Rockefeller (right), talking with William Miller, national Republican chairman) conceded that his brother, presidential candidate Nelson Rockefeller, would not carry a single Southern state if the GOP National Convention were held now. "But," he added, "there's a lot can happen before convention time."

GOLDWATER TERRITORY—Republican leaders from 12 of these 13 Southern states (shaded), powvowing in Charleston, S.C., give Sen. Barry Goldwater their backing for the Republican presidential nomination. The lone dissenter is Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, who favors someone else.

SPECIAL PRETZEL COOKIES — For good flavor try these pretzel cookies, not salty but spicy. It takes a bit of practice to shape them but your efforts will be well worthwhile.

Everyone Likes Cookies

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Cookies are nice to nibble on, marvelous to munch.

Everyone likes 'em. Mom, so how about whipping up a batch as a surprise for the family?

Kids go for cookies rich with nuts or fruit. Keep them happy with Soft Molasses Cookies topped with currants and nuts.

Adults seem to favor a spicy flavor, so try the Pretzel Cookies on Dad. They're sugary and good, sparked with ginger, molasses, cinnamon and cloves.

The shape, too, is special. It takes a bit of practice to create that pretzel outline, but you'll have fun getting the twist of it. Here are the recipes.

PRETZEL COOKIES

5 to 5½ c. sifted enriched flour
½ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ground cloves
1 tsp. ginger
1 c. shortening
½ c. sugar
1 c. dark molasses
1 egg.

Granulated sugar
Sift together 5 c. flour, soda, salt and spices.
Cream together shortening and sugar. Add molasses and egg mix well.

Add dry ingredients and stir with a spoon, then knead by hand until well-blended. Add additional flour, if needed. Dough should be stiff but pliable.

Break off pieces of dough about 1 in. in diameter; roll under palms of hands, on lightly floured board or pastry cloth, to form ropes ¼ in. thick and 12 in. long. Twist into pretzel shapes.

Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in mod. oven, 340 F., for 15 min., until very lightly browned.

Carefully remove cookies from baking sheet and dip into sugar at once.
Makes about 4 doz. cookies.

SOFT MOLASSES COOKIES

3 c. sifted enriched flour
½ s. sugar
2 tsp. baking soda
2 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
¾ tsp. salt
1 c. hydrogenated shortening
1 egg
1 c. dark molasses
1-3 c. boiling water
1 tbsp. vinegar
Chopped nuts
Currants

Sift together flour, sugar, soda, ginger, cinnamon and salt. Add shortening, egg, molasses water and vinegar, mixing to blend.

Beat 2 min. on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand.
Drop by tablespoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Sprinkle with nuts and/or currants.

Bake in mod. oven, 375 F., 10 to 12 min. or until only slight imprint is left when lightly touched.
Makes about 2 doz. 3-in. cookies.

Personals

Westinghouse Pact Is OK'd By Union

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the Independent United Electrical Workers Union have a new labor contract calling for an average hourly wage increase of 13 cents.

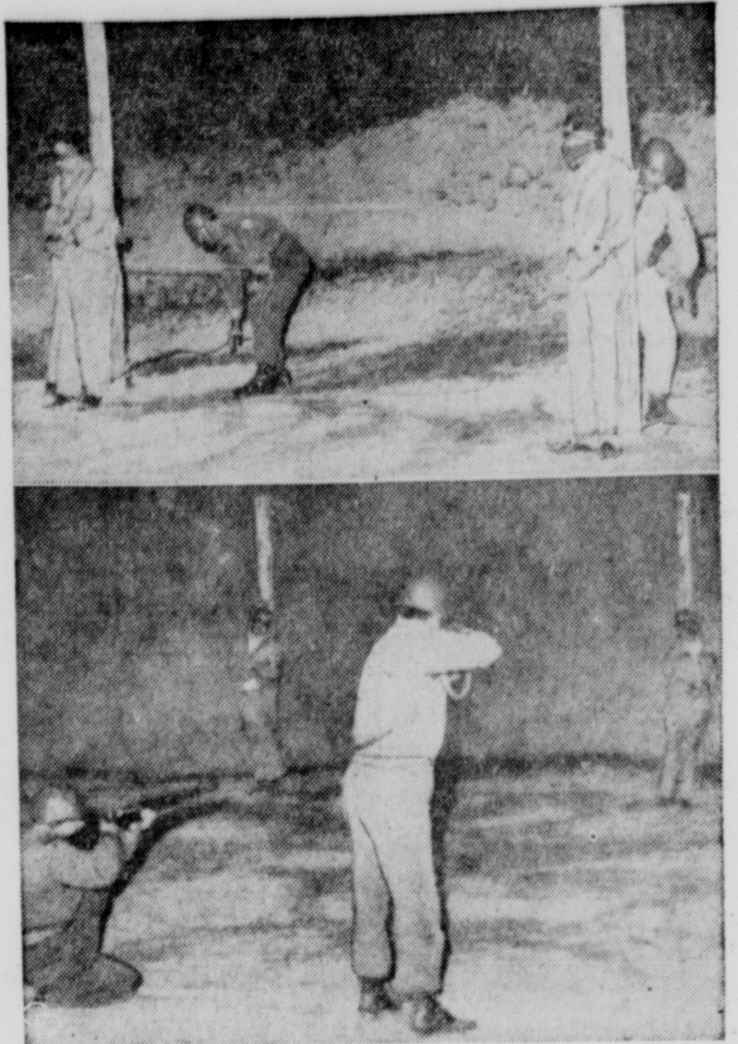

The agreement, reached Saturday, basically is for three years. However, a five-year agreement covers such benefits as pensions, insurance and vacations.

A company spokesman said the contract for some 6,600 UE members follows the lines of the settlement reached previously with the Federation of Westinghouse Salaried Unions, International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

However, IBEW Local 201 has authorized a strike against the company's plant in Beaver. Local members voted 361-146 Sunday to reject a Westinghouse offer for a new contract.

The plant, which employs 1,300 workers, is one of several which negotiate contracts locally.

Eggs Benedictine often appear on restaurant menus; this dish is a combination of toasted English muffins, hot slices of cooked ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce.

EXECUTION—Two Iranian soldiers tie (upper) two convicted leaders of anti-government rioting to stakes, then (lower) execute them in Tehran. They were leaders of a riot in which a hundred persons were killed and two hundred injured last June. Their trial lasted four months.

MISSING CALLS

DEAR MISSING: Ask your stepfather if you can't just say "Hello" and not make a Federal case out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Is there such a thing as a person being able to drive another person out of her mind? If there is, I think that is what is happening to me. I have an aunt who takes pleasure in saying things that hurt me. Like when I had my second child—it was another girl. She marched into my hospital room and said, "Oh, I wish you had had a boy for your husband. He looks sooooo disappointed."

On another occasion, when she saw my daughter all dressed up in her Sunday best, she remarked, "Such a pretty dress. Pity the child is so fat she doesn't look good in anything!" That woman has hurt me deeper than anyone I've ever known and I've never done a thing to deserve it. My husband says, "Pay no attention to her — she's ignorant!" How can you get along with a person like that? She lives near me and visits often.

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: If your aunt were only ignorant, you could forgive her. She's vicious. She's try to get along with her? Try getting along WITHOUT her. You'll live longer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband asked me what I wanted for my twelfth wedding anniversary and I said, "A divorce." I know it's out of the question because of my religion, but I really would almost rather be alone with the kids than living like this. I am 29 and we have six kids, which I have had to raise practically by myself. I am tired of covering up for my husband when he is late from work, or on a weekend binge. I have nobody to blame but myself because I ran off and married this guy against my parents' wishes. I was 17 and he was 19. Please keep telling young people not to rush into marriage. Forever is a long time.

BG-OU Clash Saturday May Sound Like Quake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
That rumble down at Athens Saturday may register on some seismographs. But it won't be an earthquake.

Bowling Green and Ohio University square off in a show down match that could decide the champion in the scrambling Mid-American Conference.

A victory for Coach Doyt Perry's Falcons, (4-1-0), would give Bowling Green an unprecedented third straight title.

Ohio U. (3-1-0) could take it all with an upset and a victory over Marshall the following week.

Miami (4-1-1) has completed its conference schedule but could sneak in if the Bobcats beat the Falcons Saturday and then lose to the Big Green Nov. 23, in Huntington.

The three leaders kept the race sizzling last weekend with league triumphs.

The Falcons rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to crush Marshall's hopes, 21-14, as star halfback Jay Cunningham scored twice; halfback Jim Albert scored all four markers as Ohio clipped Western Michigan 27-13, and Miami's Ernie Kellermann passed for a pair of touchdowns in the Redskins', 40-8, pounding of Toledo.

In the big game on the Buckeye scene, Penn State used the wizardry of quarterback Pete Kiske to startle Ohio State, 10-7. The setback, second of the year for the Buckeyes, did not mar their chances to grab the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid.

Ohio State is 3-0-1 in the conference behind Michigan State's 4-0-1 showing. By beating Northwestern this week in the home finale and arch-rival Michigan Nov. 23, the Bucks can clinch at least a tie for the Big Ten title even if Michigan State whips Illinois in its Nov. 23 finale.

If that happens, though the Spartans would get the Rose Bowl nod since they haven't played in the Coast classic since 1956 while Ohio performed there in 1958.

Coach Woody Hayes paid tribute to Kiske as "the best ball handler I've seen in this stadium."

But the Buckeye mentor added: "I'd have to say our offense beat us since our defense did well enough."

Elsewhere, unbeaten but once tied Wittenberg wallpopped Akron 34-13 as Chuck Green threw three touchdown passes. The victory gave the Tigers their third straight Ohio Conference crown as Oberlin burst the Denison bubble with a 20-14 upset decision over the Big Red.

Two pass interceptions helped pave the Yeomen victory and Denison went down to defeat for the first time this season.

John Carroll remained the state's only undefeated team by thumping Thiel 42-0. The decision assured the Clevelanders of at least a tie for the President's Conference title.

In others, Dayton bowed to Wichita 12-7; Western Reserve hit the victory column for the first time by beating Bethany 22-6; Kent State copped its second straight with a rousing 26-7 triumph over Louisville; potent Cincinnati wallpopped North Texas State 39-7; Bill Thompson scored three TDs in Otterbein's 28-12 verdict over Ohio Wesleyan; Dale Dickson led Muskingum over Capital 28-7; Kenyon outlasted Hiram in a wild one, 52-30; Zen Chawansky's two field goals helped Ashland beat Mount Union 19-8, and Xavier routed Texas Western 24-0.

It was also the third win of the season for them. The reserve win was paced by Meredith O'Dell and Kenny Martin-dale who tallied 11 counters each.

Next week the Wildcats host the Darby Trojans in a Pickaway County league tilt.

Jackson Rolls To 61-56 Win At Allensville

Victory Is Third Straight for Wildcat Cage Unit

The Jackson Wildcats rolled to their third consecutive win of the season on the strength of a good third quarter Saturday, defeating host school Allensville 61-56.

Dwight Whaley paced the boys from Fox with a 21-point spurge, coming on nine field goals and three charity tosses. Bruce List came through with 14 and Steve Neff tallied 10 to aid the winning effort.

Graham was high for the losers with 25.

Hitting 51 per cent from the field, the Jackson cagers held a 17-15 first quarter edge. By halftime the Allensville cagers had knotted the score at 31-31.

The Wildcats built a five point margin in the third quarter, outscoring the Vinton County quintet 15-10. In the final period of play each team scored 15 markers.

JACKSON cage mentor Paul Hoskins noted that his charges had only six turnovers for the game an important factor in the win.

The Jackson reserves made it a good night for visiting fans taking the preliminary tilt 45-40.

It was also the third win of the season for them. The reserve win was paced by Meredith O'Dell and Kenny Martin-dale who tallied 11 counters each.

Next week the Wildcats host the Darby Trojans in a Pickaway County league tilt.

Monroe Drops 70-58 Test At Kingston

Monroe dropped a 70-58 decision to Kingston Saturday on the Redskins' floor when the host quintet managed a 25-point fourth quarter outburst.

Going into the final period the Monroe Indians were ahead 46-45. But two of the starting five were lost via the personal foul route while a third, Armentrout, received a slight skull concussion.

Armentrout was admitted to Berger Hospital for observation Saturday night. He was to be released today according to Dick Everman, Monroe coach.

Bob Sparks and Tom Seeley shared high point honors for the Monroe five with 16 each. Blair tallied 15.

FOR THE WINNERS Search was the top scorer with 25 while Large assisted with 19.

The Kingston reserves won in an overtime, 35-30.

Friday Monroe plays at Williamsport in a Pickaway County League contest. Kingston plays at Jackson Saturday.

Deers Top Buckskin, 128-74, Set School Scoring Record

The Williamsport Deers roared to a 128-74 win over visiting Buckskin of Ross County Saturday to establish a new school scoring record.

The previous high recorded at the Westfall District school was a 108-42 victory over New Holland in 1959.

Veteran cage mentor Glenn Chester reported his strong bench was instrumental in the wide margin, accounting for nearly 50 points. All but one player scored in the game. Seven of the Deers hit double figures.

High point man in the tilt, however, was Eddie Schiller of Buckskin who swished 15 field goals and nine charity tosses through the nets for a total of 39 points.

LARRY BEARD and Bruce Willis dropped in 21 points each for the winners while Rick Fenstermaker topped the Williamsport efforts with 25 points in 12 field goals and a single charity toss.

Nick Williams and Tom Hamlin had 13 points each. Adrian Harper had 12 and Neil Coleman tallied 16.

The Deers jumped to an early lead with a 29-point first quarter production while the losers could tally only 12.

By halftime the Williamsport quintet led by 59-25. At the end of the third period the rampaging unit had built up a whopping 92-41 margin.

The Deers hit 50 per cent from the field. Beard hauled down 13 rebounds to lead in that department.

The reserves won their end of the twin bill for the Deers, posting 43-18 win.

The rugged Deers meet Monroe in a league contest on Friday.

Lakers Face Tough Series On Road Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers tuned up for a rugged road trip by handing the New York Knicks a 104-79 pasting in National Basketball Association play Sunday night.

It's a good thing the victory was no strain because counting Sunday night's game the Lakers will play seven times in eight days. They won't be back on the home court until Nov. 16.

Los Angeles, now at the top of the Western Division heap with a 7-3 record meets Detroit at Minneapolis tonight. Detroit is 2-6.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus cleared the bench in Sunday night's contest as his team out ran the Knicks in the second half.

Elgin Baylor with 21 points Jerry West with 18 and Dick Barnett with 16 led the Lakers.

Boston entertains St. Louis in the only other NBA game tonight.

Saturday night's action saw Cincinnati take Detroit 118-109; Baltimore down Philadelphia 116-100; Boston beat St. Louis 113-91 and New York edge San Francisco 89-84.

Fewest number of runs scored by a losing team in a World Series is three. That's all the Philadelphia Athletics got when they bowed in five games to the 1905 New York Giants.

Sandy Koufax turned in 11 National League shutouts during 1963. Six of his shutouts were scored in Los Angeles.

HARGUS RECORD — Mrs. Harold Hessler of Columbus landed this 16 1/4 pound muskie yesterday at Hargus Lake. The fish was 40-inches long and was the largest ever weighed at Lakeside Supply Store according to H. G. Thompson, owner. Mr. and Mrs. Hessler fish regularly at Hargus and this is the third muskie they have caught there this fall. Thompson, who did not know what bait the Hesslers were using, reported that several other large muskies have been hooked and landed out there this fall.

Jackson Rolls To 61-56 Win At Allensville

Victory Is Third Straight for Wildcat Cage Unit

The Jackson Wildcats rolled to their third consecutive win of the season on the strength of a good third quarter Saturday, defeating host school Allensville 61-56.

Dwight Whaley paced the boys from Fox with a 21-point spurge, coming on nine field goals and three charity tosses. Bruce List came through with 14 and Steve Neff tallied 10 to aid the winning effort.

Graham was high for the losers with 25.

Hitting 51 per cent from the field, the Jackson cagers held a 17-15 first quarter edge. By halftime the Allensville cagers had knotted the score at 31-31.

The Wildcats built a five point margin in the third quarter, outscoring the Vinton County quintet 15-10. In the final period of play each team scored 15 markers.

Deers Top Buckskin, 128-74, Set School Scoring Record

The Williamsport Deers roared to a 128-74 win over visiting Buckskin of Ross County Saturday to establish a new school scoring record.

The previous high recorded at the Westfall District school was a 108-42 victory over New Holland in 1959.

Veteran cage mentor Glenn Chester reported his strong bench was instrumental in the wide margin, accounting for nearly 50 points. All but one player scored in the game. Seven of the Deers hit double figures.

High point man in the tilt, however, was Eddie Schiller of Buckskin who swished 15 field goals and nine charity tosses through the nets for a total of 39 points.

LARRY BEARD and Bruce Willis dropped in 21 points each for the winners while Rick Fenstermaker topped the Williamsport efforts with 25 points in 12 field goals and a single charity toss.

Nick Williams and Tom Hamman had 13 points each, Adrian Harper had 12 and Neil Coleman tallied 16.

The Deers jumped to an early lead with a 29-point first quarter production while the losers could tally only 12.

By halftime the Williamsport quintet led by 39-25. At the end of the third period the rampaging unit had built up a whopping 92-41 margin.

The Deers hit 50 per cent from the field. Beard hauled down 13 rebounds to lead in that department.

The reserves won their end of the twin bill for the Deers, posting 43-18 win.

The rugged Deers meet Monroe in a league contest on Friday.

Lakers Face Tough Series On Road Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers tuned up for a rugged road trip by handing the New York Knicks a 104-79 pasting in National Basketball Association play Sunday night.

It's a good thing the victory was no strain because counting Sunday night's game the Lakers will play seven times in eight days. They won't be back on the home court until Nov. 16.

Los Angeles, now at the top of the Western Division heap with a 7-3 record meets, Detroit at Minneapolis tonight. Detroit is 2-6.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus cleared the bench in Sunday night's contest as his team out ran the Knicks in the second half.

Elgin Baylor with 21 points Jerry West with 18 and Dick Barnett with 16 led the Lakers.

Boston entertains St. Louis in the only other NBA game tonight.

Saturday night's action saw Cincinnati take Detroit 118-109; Baltimore down Philadelphia 116-100; Boston beat St. Louis 113-91 and New York edge San Francisco 89-84.

Fewest number of runs scored by a losing team in a World Series is three. That's all the Philadelphia Athletics got when they bowed in five games to the 1905 New York Giants.

Sandy Koufax shutout in 11 National League shutouts during 1963. Six of his shutouts were scored in Los Angeles.

HARGUS RECORD — Mrs. Harold Hessler of Columbus landed this 16 1/2 pound muskie yesterday at Hargus Lake. The fish was 40-inches long and was the largest ever weighed at Lakeside Supply Store according to H. G. Thompson, owner. Mr. and Mrs. Hessler fish regularly at Hargus and this is the third muskie they have caught there this fall. Thompson, who did not know what bait the Hesslers were using, reported that several other large muskies have been hooked and landed out there this fall.

Disaster Play Gets Nod From Cleveland Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You're Cleveland quarterback Frank Ryan. You're eluding 7-0 in the third quarter, but it's second down with the ball on your own three-yard line.

What do you do? Sure. You give it to Jimmy Brown.

Well, you, Ryan, Brown and Coach Blanton Collier agree.

So does Pittsburgh linebacker Bob Schmitz, who diagnosed the pitchout, knifed through and slammed Brown to the ground for a safety that propelled the Steelers to a 9-7 victory over Cleveland Sunday in the top upset on the National Football League program.

"Ryan had one chance to call the play," said Collier. "I think it was called right. You should be able to execute a play any where on the field."

"I just got trapped in the end zone," said Brown, "that was all."

That was all for Cleveland. Pittsburgh took it from there, and scored the clinching touchdown in the fourth quarter on a nine-yard pass to Gary Ballman, a reserve receiver scoring his first touchdown in two years of NFL play.

The loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference with the New York Giants, who brought their record to 7-2 as Y. A. Tittle passed for three touchdowns in an easy 42-14 triumph over Philadelphia.

Green Bay and Chicago, meanwhile, remained in a tie for the Western Division lead with 8-1 records. The whole issue may be settled when the two teams meet Sunday in Chicago.

The Packers broke a 7-7 tie in the second half as John Roach passed for two of his three touchdown passes and a 28-7 victory over Minnesota. The Bears ran into even more difficulty, edging Los Angeles 6-0 on two field goals by Roger LeClerc.

St. Louis rode three touchdown passes by Charley Johnson to a 24-20 victory over Washington, San Francisco Lamar McHan hit for three scoring strikes in a 31-24 triumph over Dallas and Jim Martins field goal proved the difference as Baltimore edged Detroit 24-21.

In the American League, San Diego edged Boston 7-6 and Houston defeated New York 31-27. Buffalo beat Denver 27-17 Saturday night.

A record crowd of 54,497 turned out at Pittsburgh for the Steelers-Browns clash. Cleveland scored first, moving ahead 7-0 in the second period when Ryan fired a four-yard touchdown pass to Gary Collins. Then Brown, who was held in eight yards in the second half after gaining 92 in the first, was caught in the end zone.

Tittle completed 16 of 20 passes for 261 yards before rookie Glynn Griffith took over for the Giants and added to the Eagles' miseries with a 22-yard TD toss to Del Shofner.

Roach pulled the Packers into a halftime tie on a 12-yard touchdown pass to Marv Fleming after the Vikings had pulled ahead on Fran Tankerton's 18-yarder to Paul Flatley. With Jim Taylor being held to 37 yards in 18 carries, Roach went to the air in the second half and clinched it with two TD tosses—20 yards to Boyd Dowler and 45 to Tom Moore.

The Bears completely contained the Rams, holding Los Angeles to 88 yards on stout defensive work by Earl Leggett, Bob Kilcullen, Doug Atkins and John Johnson. But Chicago was unable to get rolling behind erratic quarterback Billy Wade and Leclerc supplied the points with a 30-yard field goal in the first quarter and a 16-yarder in the third.

Johnson broke the Cardinals team record when he connected for his 18th touchdown pass, a 14-yarder to Sonny Randle in the fourth quarter that proved decisive.

Beard's 72-hole score of 68-72-69-78 was six under par. Steelsmith was five under at 70-71-69-69 — 279. Dow Finsterwald and Mason Rudolph finished at 280 and won $2,800 each and Al Geiberger picked up $2,300 with a 282. Only 10 players finished under seven-par.

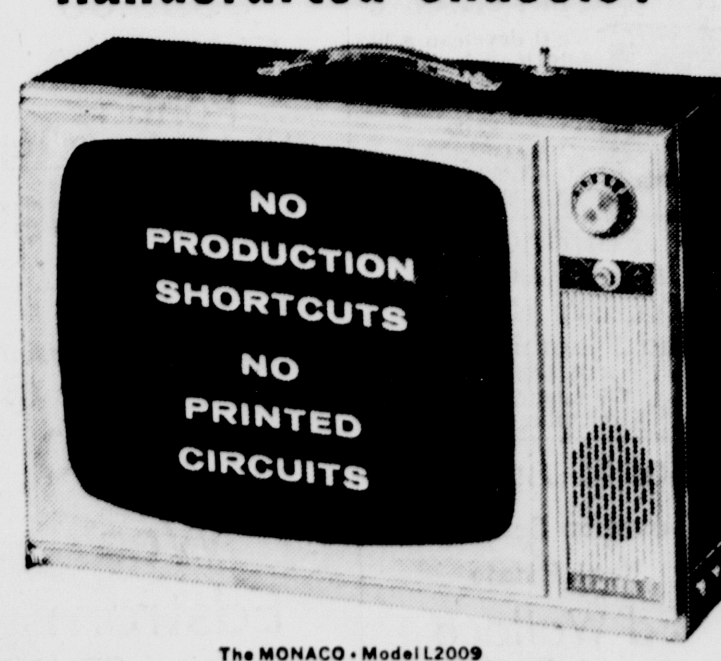

Proceeds of the tournament, which sponsors hope to make an annual event, go to the Frank Sinatra Foundation, established to aid youth groups.

BACKACHE & NERVE TENSION SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION

After 21 common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved wife,
Madelaine Piper, who passed away
3 years ago today, Nov. 9, 1960.
You are not forgotten loved one,
nor will you ever be. As long as life and memory last, we will remember you.
Alone here we mourn — but not in vain — for up in Heaven we will meet again. You can not say, you must not say — she is dead — just away.
As time goes by we miss you more and more — we miss you now, our hearts are sore. In spring, we wait for roses red — when faded — the lilies — blue — in early fall, when the leaves fall — we'll catch a glimpse of you.
We want to know each step you take, so we may take the same. For some day down that lonely road,
you will hear us call your name.

ing his grip on the club.

SWINGING with tightness or freedom in your muscles and joints depends largely on your starting position. This is the time to take inventory because any tightness in the preliminaries is sure to multiply during the swing.

Consider the following points:
Freedom of movement in your whole body can be no greater than the ease in your midsec-tion. This ease requires a fairly upright posture and normal breathing. Tightness in body, arms and hands goes with bending the spine forward or restricted breathing.

For better body balance and action have the toes of both feet turned upward and your weight well back toward your heels. Ease in neck and shoulder muscles, without bending
the head forward, affords freedom in the movements of arms and hands. Waggle clubhead slowly behind the ball with plenty of ease in both wrists.

Tight wrists mean a locked midsection.

Papa Bear Braced for Packer Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — "I'm glad that one's behind us," said owner-coach, George Halas, of the Chicago Bears, "but I don't like seeing what's ahead of us."

Halas' comments concerned his club's narrow 6-0 victory over stubborn Los Angeles Sunday and the upcoming football game against the Green Bay Packers next Sunday. Green Bay defeated Minnesota 28-7 Sunday.

The Bears, who defeated the Packers 10-3 in the season opener, are tied with Green Bay for the Western Division lead in the National Football League. Each club has an 8-1 record and the upcoming game could determine the divisional championship.

For the Bears it was the same story it has been all season in their triumph over the Rams. The defense did it again. Six times this year the Bear defense which Halas considers the best in his club's history has held the opposition to one touchdown or less while the offense throughout the season has been erratic.

Asked if the Bear offense was looking ahead to the Green Bay game Halas shook his head negatively. "We didn't mention Green Bay all week. We tried to get the offense up but it did not work. We can't play that way against Green Bay and win. That much I know."

"I have to be careful of what I say this week," said Halas. "Green Bay is coming here to prove their loss to us was a mistake."

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Fonda, host of Sunday night's NBC special, "That Was The Week That Was," explained that the hour was designed to help the audience "keep your thumb on the nose of the news."

And for 60 minutes a group of talented performers poked fun at just about every topical target in sight, from Charles de Gaulle to debutante parties. Some of the sharpest satirical thrusts were directed at American politics.

A lot of it was very funny, some of it seemed in poor taste but all of it was intelligent, impudent and irreverent. Usually, what television calls satire is a "spoof" of a TV commercial or an imitation of John F. Kennedy or James Cagney. This was the real thing, and it had bite.

There was a lethal sketch about Barry Goldwater and his conservative thoughts, a snide swipe at Nelson A. Rockefeller and even a blackout which went way out and included Thomas E. Dewey.

Perhaps the funniest sketch was done by the marvelous Mike Nichols and Elaine May. Miss May played a "grief lady" selling the services of her establishment to tearful customer Nichols, interested in an inexpensive funeral.

Some shafts went wide of the mark and some should never have been thrown. The show opened with a tasteless integration joke. There was a bit about a corrupt mayor which was not funny. Neither was an "interview" with a TV-wise clergyman who used Madison Avenue jargon.

The program strided roughshod into delicate areas, named names, pulled no punches. There will be complaints. But if the preview is well received, we may have such a weekly show next season. It would certainly add some salt and pepper to a rather bland television diet.

Recommended tonight: "Hollywood and the Stars," NBC, 9:30-10 (EST)—departure from its usual format to show how motion pictures groom young performers for stardom.

Texas Stands Alone on List Of Unbeaten

Longhorns Tally Rare TD in Last Half of Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oh, those things college football coaches say before a game. Darrell Royal, coach of the country's top-ranked Texas Longhorns, said before the Baylor game Saturday "I just don't know if we lack the killer instinct or what, but by not scoring in the second half we've had to sweat out some games we thought we had wrapped up."

Result: The Longhorns tallied in the second half to beat Baylor 7-0 for their eighth straight victory. They became the country's only major unbeaten, untied team by Princeton and Auburn fell by the way side.

Now Royal says "I am still scared of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs who play the Longhorns this Saturday. In a similar situation in 1961 the Horned Frogs pulled a 6-0 upset and knocked Texas out of the No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press poll."

"I think that victory will help Texas Christian this time, Royal said in expanding on his "I am scared theme. "Winning one like that makes you confident that you can do it again. Perhaps, but TCU lost to Louisiana State Saturday 28-14."

One thing at least seems certain. Royal will stick to his "three yards and a cloud of dust" style of play. The Longhorns ground out 242 yards by rushing against Baylor and showed a "killer instinct in rushing Don Trull, the nation's leading thrower, whenever he faded back to pass."

Trull did complete 19 of 39 for 204 yards, but he was hurried on most every throw. And he suffered a vital interception in the last 29 seconds when Duke Carlisle, the Texas QB, grabbed the ball out of the hands of Baylor's Lawrence Elkins in the end zone.

Carlisle also passed for 16 yards and ran for 16 in a Texas touchdown drive in the third period. Tom Stockton bucked over from the one to complete the march and virtually assure the Longhorns the SWC title and a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

Mississippi State toppled fifth-ranked Auburn from the unbeaten, untied ranks on Justin Cauzales 36-yard field goal with 22 seconds left, 13-10. Harvard spoiled Princetons perfect slate with a 21-7 upset.

Illinois and Ohio State, ranked in the Top Ten, also took it on the chin. Illinois, No. 2, went down before Michigan, 14-8, and Ohio State, No. 10, fell before Penn State's Nittany Lions, 10-7, on a 23-yard field goal by Ron Coates.

The others in the top ten won impressively. Mississippi, No. 3, trampled Tampa 41-0; Navy No. 4, crushed Maryland 42-7; Oklahoma, No. 6, whipped Iowa State 24-14; Pitt, No. 8, walloped Notre Dame 27-7, and Michigan State, No. 9, blanked Purdue 23-0, to take the lead in the race for the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl. Alabama, No. 7, had an open date.

Washington took a firmer grasp on the Rose Bowl berth by whipping California 39-26. Army pulled out an 8-7 victory over Utah on Rolie Stichwells two-point conversion in the last quarter; Georgia Tech defeated Florida State 15-7 and Memphis State, the major independent leader with a 7-0-1 record blanked South Carolina 9-0.

Nebraska bounced back after a 99-yard TD run by Kansas Gale Sayers to whip the Jay hawks 23-9, North Carolina lost to Clemson 11-7, N.C. State beat Virginia Tech 13-7; Southern California came from behind to defeat Stanford 25-11; Syracuse nipped West Virginia 15-13 and Wisconsin took Northwestern 17-14.

Anxiety Sweeps Red China In Quarrel with Moscow

By F. K. WU
Central Press Association

HONG KONG—Like drowning men catching at straws, Peiping propagandists count on an old American housewife among numerous obscure foreigners as an important prop to support the Chinese Communist regime in its struggle against "American imperialism," Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia.

A letter from this 77-year-old American woman criticized Khrushchev's daughter and her husband for visiting the Pope and expressed her admiration for Nicolai Lenin and Karl Marx, to whose principles Chairman Mao Tse-tung has advocated rigid adherence.

The letter was published by the Peiping mouthpiece, the People's Daily, and quoted in the English language service of the government's New China News Agency, which failed to give her full name, marital status and address.

Similar small fry letters grace the party newspapers every morning as a means to show that there has been strong external support to Mao in his ideological war with Khrushchev, and on the same day such letters are broadcast in English and Chinese over short wave by Radio Peiping for domestic and world-wide listening.

These efforts aim at putting out the prairie fire of pessimism and anxiety which is sweeping the country following the worsening of relations with Khrushchev, who is taken to task for giving up socialism and surrendering in company with Tito to capitalism.

Whereas between 1949 and 1958 Mao Tse-tung wanted six million Chinese to look upon Soviet Russia as their teacher and suzerain state and to imitate everything Russian, now he denounces Soviet leadership or, rather, Khrushchev "for betraying the Communists of the world and even the Soviet people."

Arrivals from Communist China said the masses were bewildered and alarmed by such developments, because Moscow is no longer a patron and ally but a formidable enemy. They are reminded of this danger by the daily blare of the village loudspeaker.

Overseas Chinese on junkets to Peiping are assured that the woes caused by three successive years of natural calamity (1959 to 1962) are overcome and that a better future is around the corner through self-help.

Inside this sugar coating is the bitter fear of Soviet might and subversion, as a persistent report is current in China that Mao Tse-tung may be overthrown with the help of Soviet Russia in favor of a liberal and pro-Soviet leader to rule over China north of the Yangtze River, while to the south of this long waterway the rumor has it, Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek will reassert control with the blessing of the United States.

A reliable source said that the Chinese Communist army of two and a half million men are scattered far and thin in the vast northwest, especially in Sinkiang province to guard against possible incursions by Soviet troops, along the Tibet border to watch India where joint maneuvers of Indian, American and British air force were to take place, and along the south China coast where Nationalist guerrillas from Formosa landed in several groups in June and more landings are thought likely.

Sufficient troops are also required, according to the same source, to deploy in different parts of the country to forestall uprisings, since the enemy with in may start troubles by taking advantage of the animosity between Mao and Khrushchev.

A hammer was the source of injury for a local man who received emergency aid in Berger Hospital during the weekend. Three persons were treated and released.

George Beale, 27, of 1033 Georgia Road, injured the left side of his face when a hammer fell from a ceiling beam.

Paul Russell, 5, Route 2, was bitten on the upper lip by his dog.

Mike Cassill, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cassill, 295 Edwards Road, fell from a cement porch and lacerated his scalp.

Production Records Of Holsteins Listed

Two registered Holstein cows from this area are listed in an official production testing report received today from Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America headquarters at Brattleboro, Vt. They are:

Ruth Hartog Pabst 4421713, a five-year-old owned by Reuben Jones & Sons, Route 4. The cow produced 18,030 lbs. of milk and 550 lbs of butterfat in 305 days.

Orient Inez Boy 4274011, a five-year-old owned by Orient State Institute, produced 18,030 lbs. of milk and 550 lbs but terfat in 305 days.

Ohio State University supervised the weighing and testing of the Holstein records as part of the breed's nationwide herd testing programs.

guided the chubby Albatross aloft in a spray of salt water and leveled off at 500 feet, maximum altitude for the entire flight. Cruising speed was 140 knots.

At 500 feet, you can tell a shark from a porpoise, or a pleasure boat from a raiding party, but you're high enough to scan a wide stretch of ocean.

The plane flew south of the Cuban port of Cairbarien, where the exile group Commandos Lonce attacked the Russian merchant ship Baku. The plane turned eastward, keeping just outside the three-mile limit.

At 10:50 a.m., co-pilot Lt. (jg.) E. W. la Croix Jr., sighted two small boats, a few miles east of Cay Lobo lighthouse. The plane dropped to about 50 feet and circled the boats, which were quickly identified as Cuban fishing vessels.

It was late afternoon when the Albatross waddled up the ramp to its parking place in Biscayne Bay.

Anxiety Sweeps Red China In Quarrel with Moscow

By F. K. WU
Central Press Association
Correspondent

HONG KONG—Like drowning men catching at straws, Peiping propagandists count on an old American housewife among numerous obscure foreigners as an important prop to support the Chinese Communist regime in its struggle against "American imperialism." Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia.

A letter from this 77-year-old American woman criticized Khrushchev's daughter and her husband for visiting the Pope and expressed her admiration for Nicolai Lenin and Karl Marx, to whose principles Chairman Mao Tse-tung has advocated rigid adherence.

The letter was published by the Peiping mouthpiece, the People's Daily, and quoted in the English language service of the government's New China News Agency, which failed to give her full name, marital status and address.

Similar small fry letters grace the party newspapers every morning as a means to show that there has been strong external support to Mao in his ideological war with Khrushchev, and on the same day such letters are broadcast in English and Chinese over short wave by Radio Peiping for domestic and world-wide listening.

These efforts aim at putting out the prairie fire of pessimism and anxiety which is sweeping the country following the worsening of relations with Khrushchev, who is taken to task for giving up socialism and surrendering in company with Tito to capitalism.

Whereas between 1949 and 1958 Mao Tse-tung wanted six million Chinese to look upon Soviet Russia as their teacher and suzerain state and to imitate Communist Chinese troops in training. Officers in rear seem to be getting some fun out of watching infantrymen practicing tactics.

everything Russian, now he denounces Soviet leadership or, rather, Khrushchev "for betraying the Communists of the world and even the Soviet people."

Arrivals from Communist China said the masses were bewildered and alarmed by such developments, because Moscow is no longer a patron and ally but a formidable enemy. They are reminded of this danger by the daily blare of the village loudspeaker.

Overseas Chinese on junkets to Peiping are assured that the woes caused by three successive years of natural calamity (1959 to 1962) are overcome and that a better future is around the corner through self-help.

Inside this sugar coating is the bitter fear of Soviet might and subversion, as a persistent report is current in China that Mao Tse-tung may be overthrown with the help of Soviet Russia in favor of a liberal and pro-Soviet leader to rule over China north of the Yangtze River.

er, while to the south of this long waterway the rumor has it, Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek will re-assert control with the blessing of the United States.

A reliable source said that the Chinese Communist army of two and a half million men are scattered far and thin in the vast northwest, especially in Sinkiang province to guard against possible incursions by Soviet troops, along the Tibet border to watch India where joint maneuvers of Indian, American and British air force were to take place, and along the south China coast where Nationalist guerrillas from Formosa landed in several groups in June and more landings are thought likely.

Sufficient troops are also required, according to the same source, to deploy in different parts of the country to forestall uprisings, since the enemy within may start troubles by taking advantage of the animosity between Mao and Khrushchev.
